Student Council

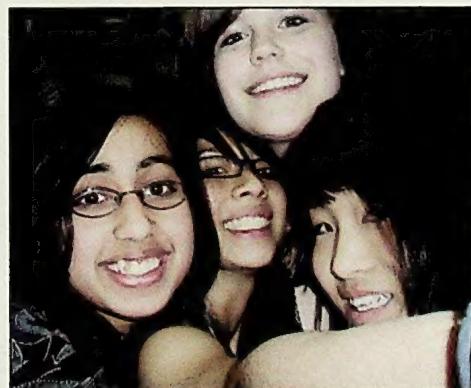

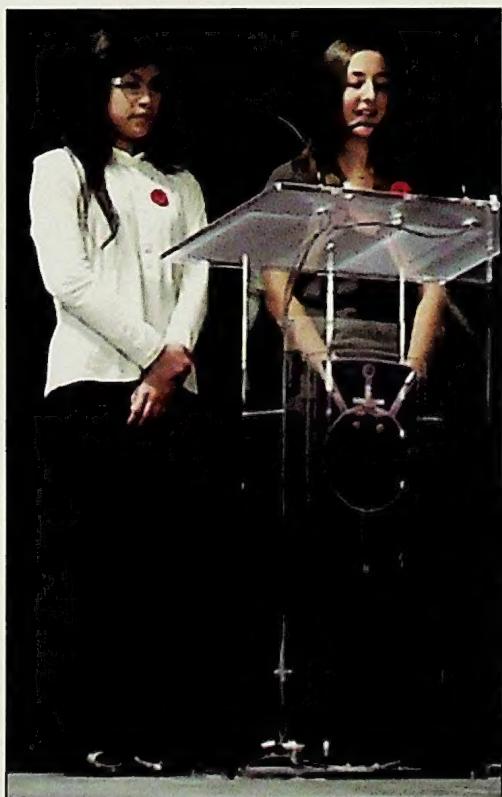

This year the Student Council Executive led with the motto Get Up & Go! All Titans took that motto to heart making this year a great success. Together all of us Titans created many memories and made legacies that Titans in years to come will look back upon. Student Council activities and events such as the Welcome Back BBQ, musical chairs, cookie decorating, the food drive, A Walk Around the World and the Easter egg hunt united the school in a web of new and old friendships. This year's Student Council Executive would like to say THANK YOU TITANS for making this year one to remember.

Titans, you are amazing. This year has been better than anything I ever imagined. The way the entire population of Harry Ainlay united for events as big as Aloha Ainlay and as small as Bingo has blown me away. Each one of you brings a new aspect of diversity to the school, making Ainlay the amazing place it is. I want to thank all of you Titans for the unbelievable experiences and unforgettable memories that we have created as a team. I wish you all the best in the future. You are a Titan; remember you can make all your dreams come true.
- Amy Heidebrecht (Student Council President)

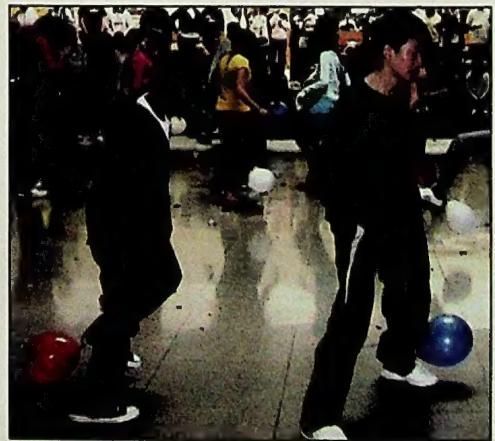

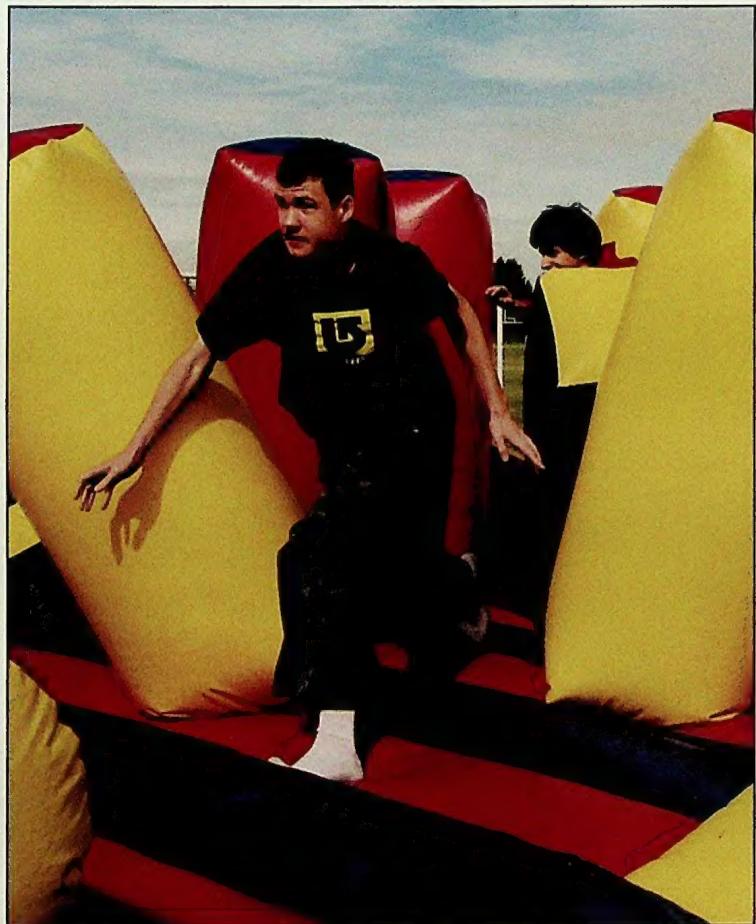

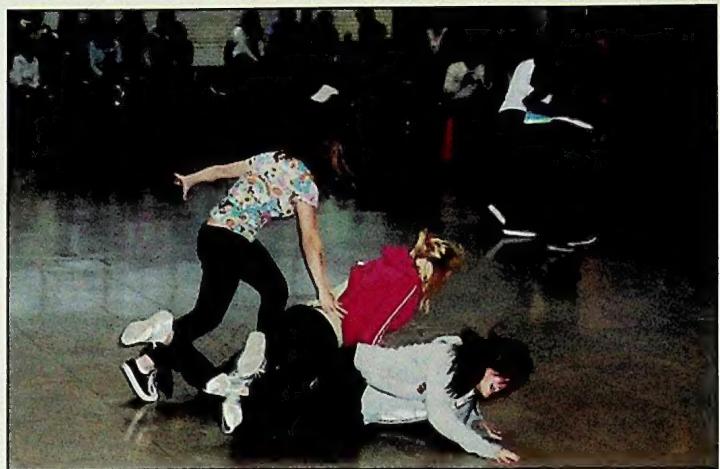

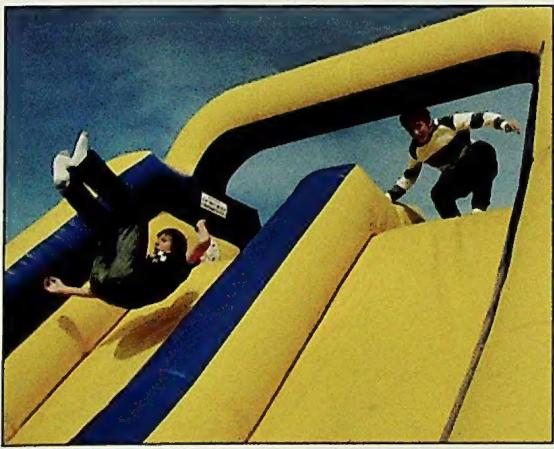

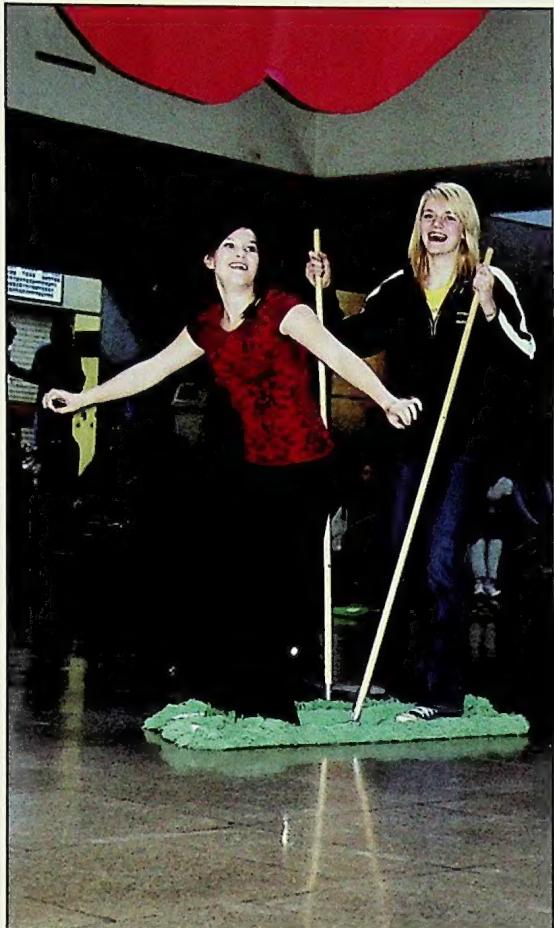

... Get up and Go!

Student Council Activities

A Thursday lunch hour is never complete without the whacky and interactive events organized and hosted by your Student Council Executive. Decked in their bright blue superman shirts, those Council executives command the microphone, encouraging you and your friends to "get involved" and reminding you, if you have not yet caved to their persuasive influence, to pay your Student Council fees ("the best $15 you will ever spend!"). For those of you reluctant to participate in events yourselves, many of you became spectators on Thursdays; after all, what could be more fun than watching almost 50 of your peers turn musical chairs into a contact sport? From sleigh races to egg hunts, Dance Dance Revolution (DDR) to Guitar Hero, your Student Council Executive tried to make you smile, make you laugh and win one of their amazing and often edible prizes.

... Get up and Go!

Principal's Message

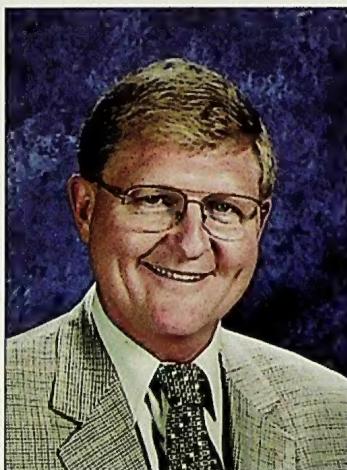

This year's theme, "Get Up...and Go!" truly represents the vibrant culture of Harry Ainlay. The numerous activities held throughout the year were planned and executed with precision and flair. The longstanding pride and tradition is evident in everything that happens at Harry Ainlay. Whether preparing for a Math exam, organizing for a Student Leadership class, or working on an event, the "work" taking place at this school contributes to the dynamic community that is "home" for three years. This has been a year of many successes both individual and as a school community. "Excellence is never an accident: it is always the result of high intention, sincere effort, intelligent direction, skill execution and the vision to see obstacles as opportunity." Anonymous. This past year we have excelled in Academics, Languages, the Arts, CTS and Sports – reaffirming our school's motto "In Omnibus Excelsior" – In all things excellence. From your first day in Grade 10 to your last Gr.12 diploma exam you will have enhanced your knowledge, character and pride as a Titan. Your years at Harry Ainlay have given you a strong foundation from which to reach out into the world to achieve your goals.

The fun, friendships and laughter you have experienced at school form the fond memories you cherish of your high school days. The "Get Up ... and Go" spirit of our 2007 – 2008 school year has been captured in the photographs and stories within this book. The yearbook is our portal back to these days whether it be a year from now or 25 years from now. Each of you will have your own special memories of this year that you will be able to share with friends and fellow Titans.

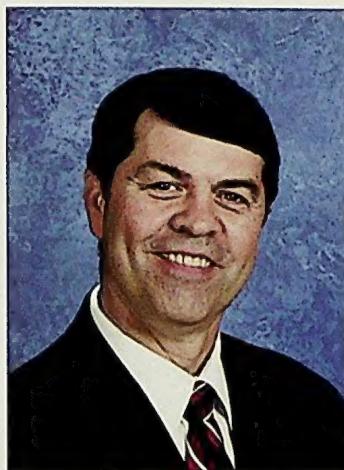

I would like to extend my thanks and appreciation to all students and staff whose efforts demonstrate what it means to be a Titan.

Sincerely, Ms. R. Smith

Core Subjects

English, Mathematics, Social Studies, and Science are the core subjects that all students take. Each course, with its own curriculum, provides students with a wide spectrum of knowledge from quadratic equations to Shakespearean plays. By developing the skills to write essays, calculate mathematical equations, and perform science lab activities, teachers prepare us for the challenges we will face in our future education and careers. We develop skills to criticize, hypothesize, and analyze the world around us to solve problems and find creative solutions. We learn to think in various ways, gaining knowledge, to understand our world. Our multi-cultural mix of students has taught us to see life from a multitude of perspectives. Thanks to our teachers for their enthusiasm and patience as we weave our way through this complex world. As the world travels around the sun, our day will come when we will be the workers, teachers and leaders of our society.

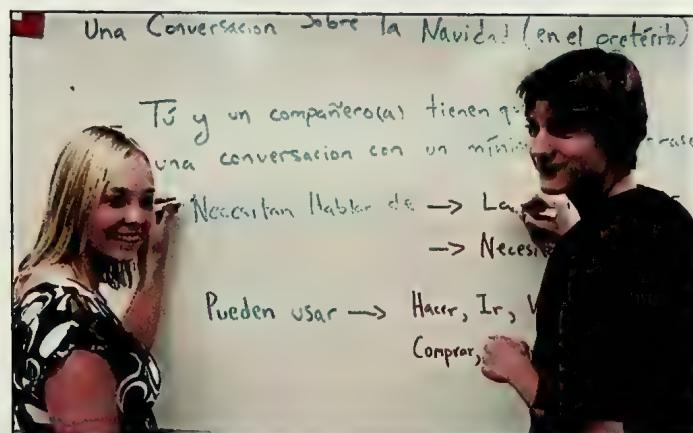

International Baccalaureate

The International Baccalaureate program at Harry Ainlay is one of the largest and most successful IB programs in Canada with over 701 pre-IB and IB students. International Baccalaureate is a program that challenges highly motivated students to develop critical thinking skills that will help prepare them for academic studies at University. Students who complete IB courses can earn advanced University credit and placement for the work that they have done at high school. Students value the dynamic classroom environment, individual instruction, challenging curriculum, dedicated teachers, and most of all, the opportunity to develop time-management, self-confidence, and leadership skills. Some of our IB students choose to earn the full IB Diploma by completing six rigorous courses, in addition to a 4000 word extended essay, completion of a Theory of Knowledge course, and at least 150 CAS (Community, Action, Service) hours in grade 11 and 12. This helps to create students that are well rounded and who can engage themselves in the world beyond the textbook. IB students are service-minded students that often take up important causes. High academic achievement, along with service to the community, has helped many of our IB students to earn scholarships for post-secondary study. 871 Harry Ainlay students have graduated with the full IB diploma since our first IB class graduated in 1984, and 75 more students are attempting to join their ranks this year. In addition, this year 125 partial IB students will write IB certificates in at least one of our courses which include: English, History, Japanese, German, French, Math, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Art, Theatre Arts, and Music. We are very proud to note that the class of 2008 will be our 25th graduating class of IB students and that the class of 2009 will include our 1000 IB Diploma Candidate. We will celebrate these major milestones by inviting all past, present, and future IB students back to Harry Ainlay on Sept 19th and 20th for a banquet, graduation, and reunion activities that will also seek to raise money for IB scholarships.

International Languages

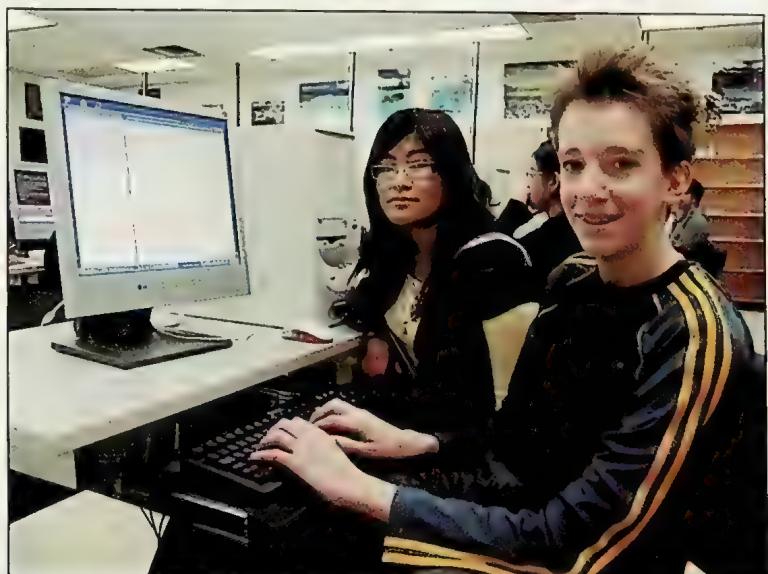

The International Languages department at Ainlay offers four second language options in French, German, Japanese, and Spanish as well as French Language Arts in both regular and IB programs. In these courses, students increase their intellectual capacity and learn new ways to communicate with people around the world. Students not only gain the spoken/written communication skills, but also enhance their understanding of respective peoples and their cultures. Each program provides the students with numerous opportunities to experience authentic cultures through daily instruction, field trips, festivals and exchange programs. It is fun to learn a new language!

Get Working! CTS @ Ainlay

Career and Technology Studies allow students to learn new skills, solve problems and see how their newly acquired knowledge shapes their final hands-on projects. This year, CTS students created furniture, dresses, T-shirts, metal sculptures, cakes, hair styles, spreadsheets, photographs, videos, house plans, and numerous other projects. CTS courses allow students to pursue a career interest or to dabble in several areas to experiment with career paths. The CTS programs offered this year are Communication Technology, Computing Science, Construction Technology, Cosmetology, Design Studies, Fabrication Studies, Fashion Studies, Foods, Mechanics, Work Experience, and the Registered Apprenticeship Program (RAP). CTS courses offer an alternative to the classroom setting by placing an emphasis on "learning through doing, a fun way to combine learning and working.

Art Program

Throughout the year, Ainlay students used a range of different mediums including paint, clay, and pastels in numerous ways to create an assortment of creative and unique projects. The result was a wide variety of diverse and personalized projects demonstrating their passion for the subject.

Drama

There are many opportunities for students to get involved in Drama at Harry Ainlay High School. The December production, this year, was Guys and Dolls. With a large cast, orchestra and many crew members, this production involved over 80 students! In the Spring, the Drama 30 class presented a One-Act Festival showcasing work by students for students. Along with professional plays, there are several student-written works that are then directed by Drama 30 students and performed by students in Grades 10, 11 & 12. To round out the experience, the technical theatre students are there to make sure everything runs smoothly! We'll finish off the year with "Dramapalooza, Too", a showcase of dance and drama talent from the Performing Arts program.

Music

The 2007-2008 school year was filled with exciting performances for the Ainlay Music Department. The year started with 150 students attending our annual Music Retreat at Camp Nakamun from October 1 to 3. Many new friendships were made and a great deal was accomplished musically to prepare for the first concerts of the year. The Jazz Ensembles held their season debut on November 28th and the Symphonic Band, Concert Band and the Concert Choir performed in the school theatre on December 4th.

Beginning on Halloween evening and continuing for four days, four students represented the Ainlay Music Program as members of the Provincial High School Honor Band. Kathleen de Caen, Jacqueline Khey, Roanne Hollang and Kate Kim performed at Music Conference Alberta in Red Deer on November 2nd, and then the students were part of an instructional session for delegates on November 3rd.

In February, the jazz groups provided the music for our 26th annual Big Band Bash. This annual favorite of students and parents alike was once again very well attended, and everyone had a great evening.

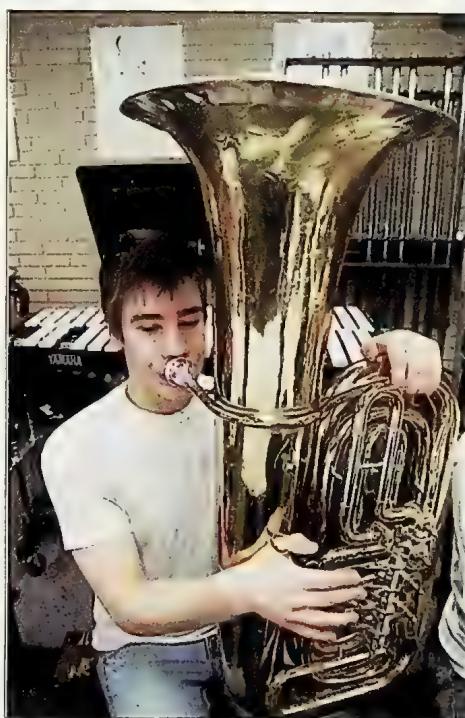

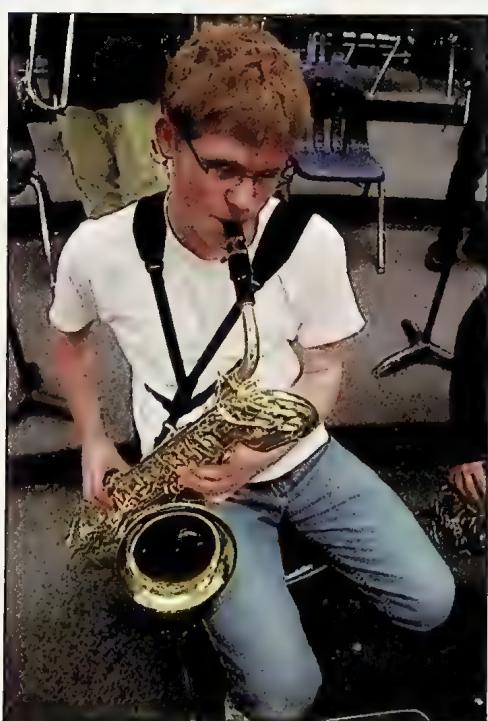

In March the Concert Band and Symphonic Band participated in the Alberta International Band Festival. Adjudicators were very impressed with the bands, and students gained a lot of valuable information at the clinic sessions. Also on the agenda for March, the jazz ensembles were showcased as part of Open House on March 6, and the Spring Concert on March 18th allowed the Concert Choir, Concert Band and Symphonic Band to encore their recent festival performances.

In addition to our annual school concerts held in March, many of our music students were involved in the annual EPS Night of Music on March 5th at the Jubilee Auditorium. Ainlay musicians were a big part of both the Senior High Honor Choir and the Senior High Honor Band.

In mid-April this year, the Ainlay music ensembles participated in a five-day tour to the Seattle, Washington where they participated in the Heritage Music Festival and tried to avoid the horrible spring snow storm that hit Edmonton. The final performances of the year included our Winds at the Winspear concert in the fabulous Winspear Center for Music on May 26th, the final jazz night at the school on June 3, commencement ceremonies, and the Grade 10 & 11 Awards Ceremony. It was a great year!

Many thanks to all of the students for their passion for music and commitment to the music program at Ainlay. Also, a big thank-you to the many parents who volunteered in so many capacities throughout the year.

Amnesty International - Advancing human rights is the focus of Amnesty International. Ainlay students are thoroughly supportive of Amnesty's initiatives and campaigns. We have a commitment to social justice and global citizenship.

Our "Spread the Net" campaign raised funds for UNICEF and earned Ainlay a place on the UNICEF website. We collected $560.00 in 40 minutes – and released 8 teachers and 3 students in our rotunda activity.

It has been 60 years since the United Nations drafted the Universal Declaration of Rights. A letter writing campaign was held on International Human Rights Day to address concerns in Myanmar, Darfur and the case of Omar Khadr.

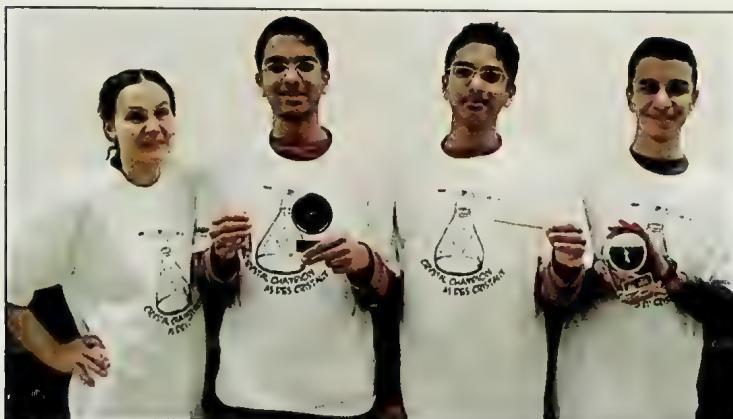

Amnesty also celebrated Black History Month in February with an Awareness activity.

Our Motto: "It is better to light a candle than curse the darkness."

Aventis Biotechnology Challenge - Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS), is a contagious disease that affects people worldwide. Current methods for detection of SARS are not fast enough; our mission for this year's challenge was to discover a way to detect the SARS virus before or just as symptoms begin appearing (Gajra Goyal and Sheena Malhotra)

Average Joe's Fitness Club - This club promotes health wellness through weekly group exercises. Performed without machines, fitness workouts include pilates, hip hop, salsa and other cardio sessions. Having friends to workout with is encouraging, making the club a lively, motivational approach to keeping in shape.

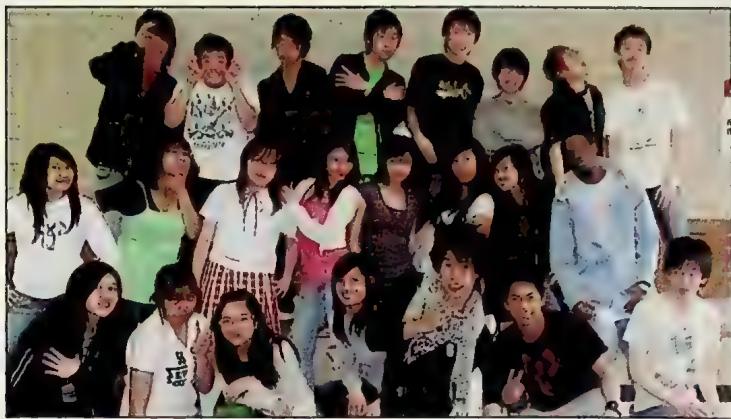

Canadian Crystal Growers - Congratulations to the three Grade 11 students, Ahmed Ibrahim, Abhishek Nage and Abhijeet Nage, who won the Canadian Crystal Growing Competition in Alberta and had their crystal go on to compete in Ottawa. There they had an overall rank of fourth in the country.

Character Education Committee - This initiative recognizes and brings to the forefront virtues that develop and nurture kind, caring and responsible citizens. The staff and student character education committee members are involved in various endeavors throughout the year to promote and support this worthy focus.

Citadel Theatre Students' Club - This year, students enjoyed six mainstage productions which ranged from the engaging world premier of Vimy to the visually astounding musical Beauty and The Beast. We thank the Citadel for its artistic contributions to the community and its continued commitment to young audiences.

Dance Club - From popping to krumping to gliding to breakdancing, this is where Ainlay's stars come together to share their love for dance! Students meet once a week to learn dance from a professional in order to perform at some of Ainlay's big events like Tri-Prov, Grad Fashion Show, and of course the amazing Ainlay Dance Showcase in May.

Encounters with Canada - Encounters enables youth from across Canada to meet in Ottawa for a week at the Terry Fox Youth Centre. Students chose one of eleven career-based sub-themes for their visit and learned more about these careers while building new friendships across provincial and territorial boundaries.

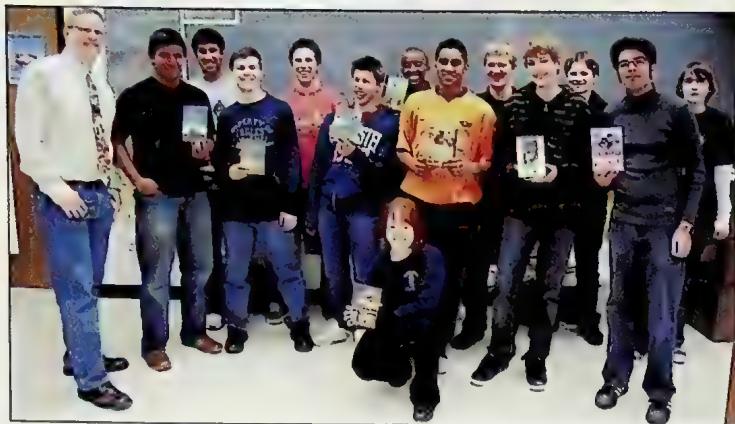

Environmental Titan Green - This club focuses on different environmental issues, such as global warming, and how to reduce our ecological footprint. Our main goal is to educate our fellow students on the effects of pollution and global warming, as well as to present ideas for ways for students to diminish their impact on the environment.

Games Club - Great social interaction can be found every lunch hour in room 171. This is where the Games Club enjoys Chess, 5-Stone, Go and a variety of video games. Anyone is welcome to come and play or just hang out and watch.

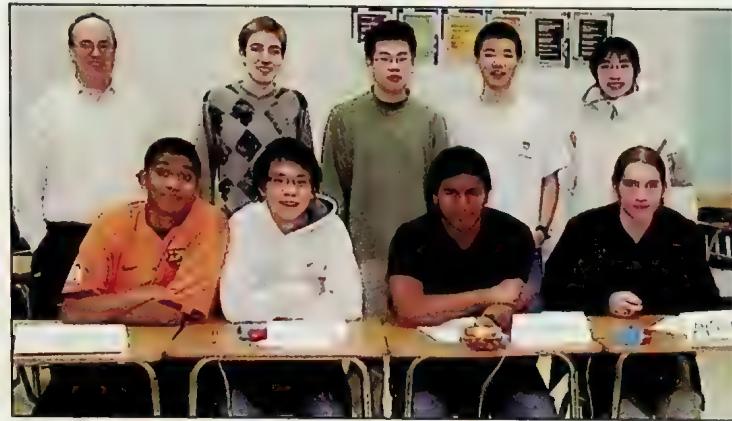

High School Model UN - 65 Ainlay students, more than ever before, took part in this year's U of A Model United Nations. Students represented different countries on various UN committees, dealing with a number of important international issues such as the Israeli/Palestinian peace process, female infanticide, international waterways and drug-resistant diseases.

Hollywood History Movie Club - This club consists of watching and discussing historical movies including The Last King of Scotland and Flags of Our Fathers. However, don't think we're all obsessive weirdos just because we meet almost every Tuesday and Friday at lunch, we also enjoyed watching Monty Python and 300.

Improv Team - This year's team competed in the Wildfire Improv Festival hosted by Rapid Fire Theatre, came second in the Canadian Improv Games competition, and first in the Theatresports competition! Players are Page Borger, Rebecca Friesen, Zoe Glassman, Corey Schmitt, Lauren Stavert and Reid Tansem; coaches are Joleen Ballendine and Tim Mikula.

School Reach - In league play, the A team went undefeated, qualifying for provincials which were hosted by Ainlay and in which the team finished third after defeating Old Scona. This success guaranteed Ainlay a spot in the National tournament. West Island College from Calgary proved too much for the Ainlay team, so they came away with silver medals.

Science Olympics - Science Olympics took place at the Shaw Conference Centre on March 1. Ainlay's two teams had lots of fun and competed well in the pre-planned and mystery events. Our Gr. 11 team won bronze in the "Great Escape" event. Other events included constructing various musical instruments and using a little bit of nanotechnology!

Society of Best Anime - Welcome to our world of anime where imaginations roam freely! This year, under new management, the club has grown to promote Japanese culture by having its very own dance team AND hosting another successful anime festival. We hope that the anime club has allowed more students an insight into the beauty of Japanese culture.

Speech and Debate - Debate at Ainlay was a blast this year! Students attended weekly practices and participated in various tournaments hosted by the Alberta Debate and Speech Association (ADSA) including the Lois Hole, Churchill, and the Mock Legislature. In addition they hosted a tournament this spring with another school!

Titanic Newspaper - Although the newspaper crew had a difficult time putting out papers consistently this year, the students successfully put in place measures which will help next year's team run the paper more efficiently. Despite this year's limited production, the writing, editing and layout crew enjoyed working together and developing journalistic skills.

Titans International - Our vision is to diminish any ethnic barriers and integrate newcomers into the student body. We organize monthly activities and we have also established the Conversation Partners and Peer Tutoring programs.

Titans of the Round Table - What better way to promote Titan pride than by having our very own Titan attending events like Link Crew, the Welcome Back BBQ, TVT, Tri-Prov and other sporting events? The silent, hand-picked, six-foot tall students who fill the revered costume give more hugs and high fives than anyone else in the school.

Triathlon - This year, a dedicated group of Titans met at Confederation pool on Wednesday's to perfect their swimming skills in preparation for the St. Albert triathlon the second week in June. Congratulations to all those athletes who competed.

Video Team - The Harry Ainlay Video Team is one of the hardest working teams in the school! Although students may not realize the work this team puts into the school, their efforts have been evident in numerous events including Link Crew, athletics banquets, rotunda activities and many more!

War Child Canada - This group wants to generate awareness, support and advocacy for children's rights everywhere. This year the group created awareness throughout the school with the Silent for Change campaign which urged students to wear tape on their mouths as a gesture representing millions of voiceless, war-affected children around the world.

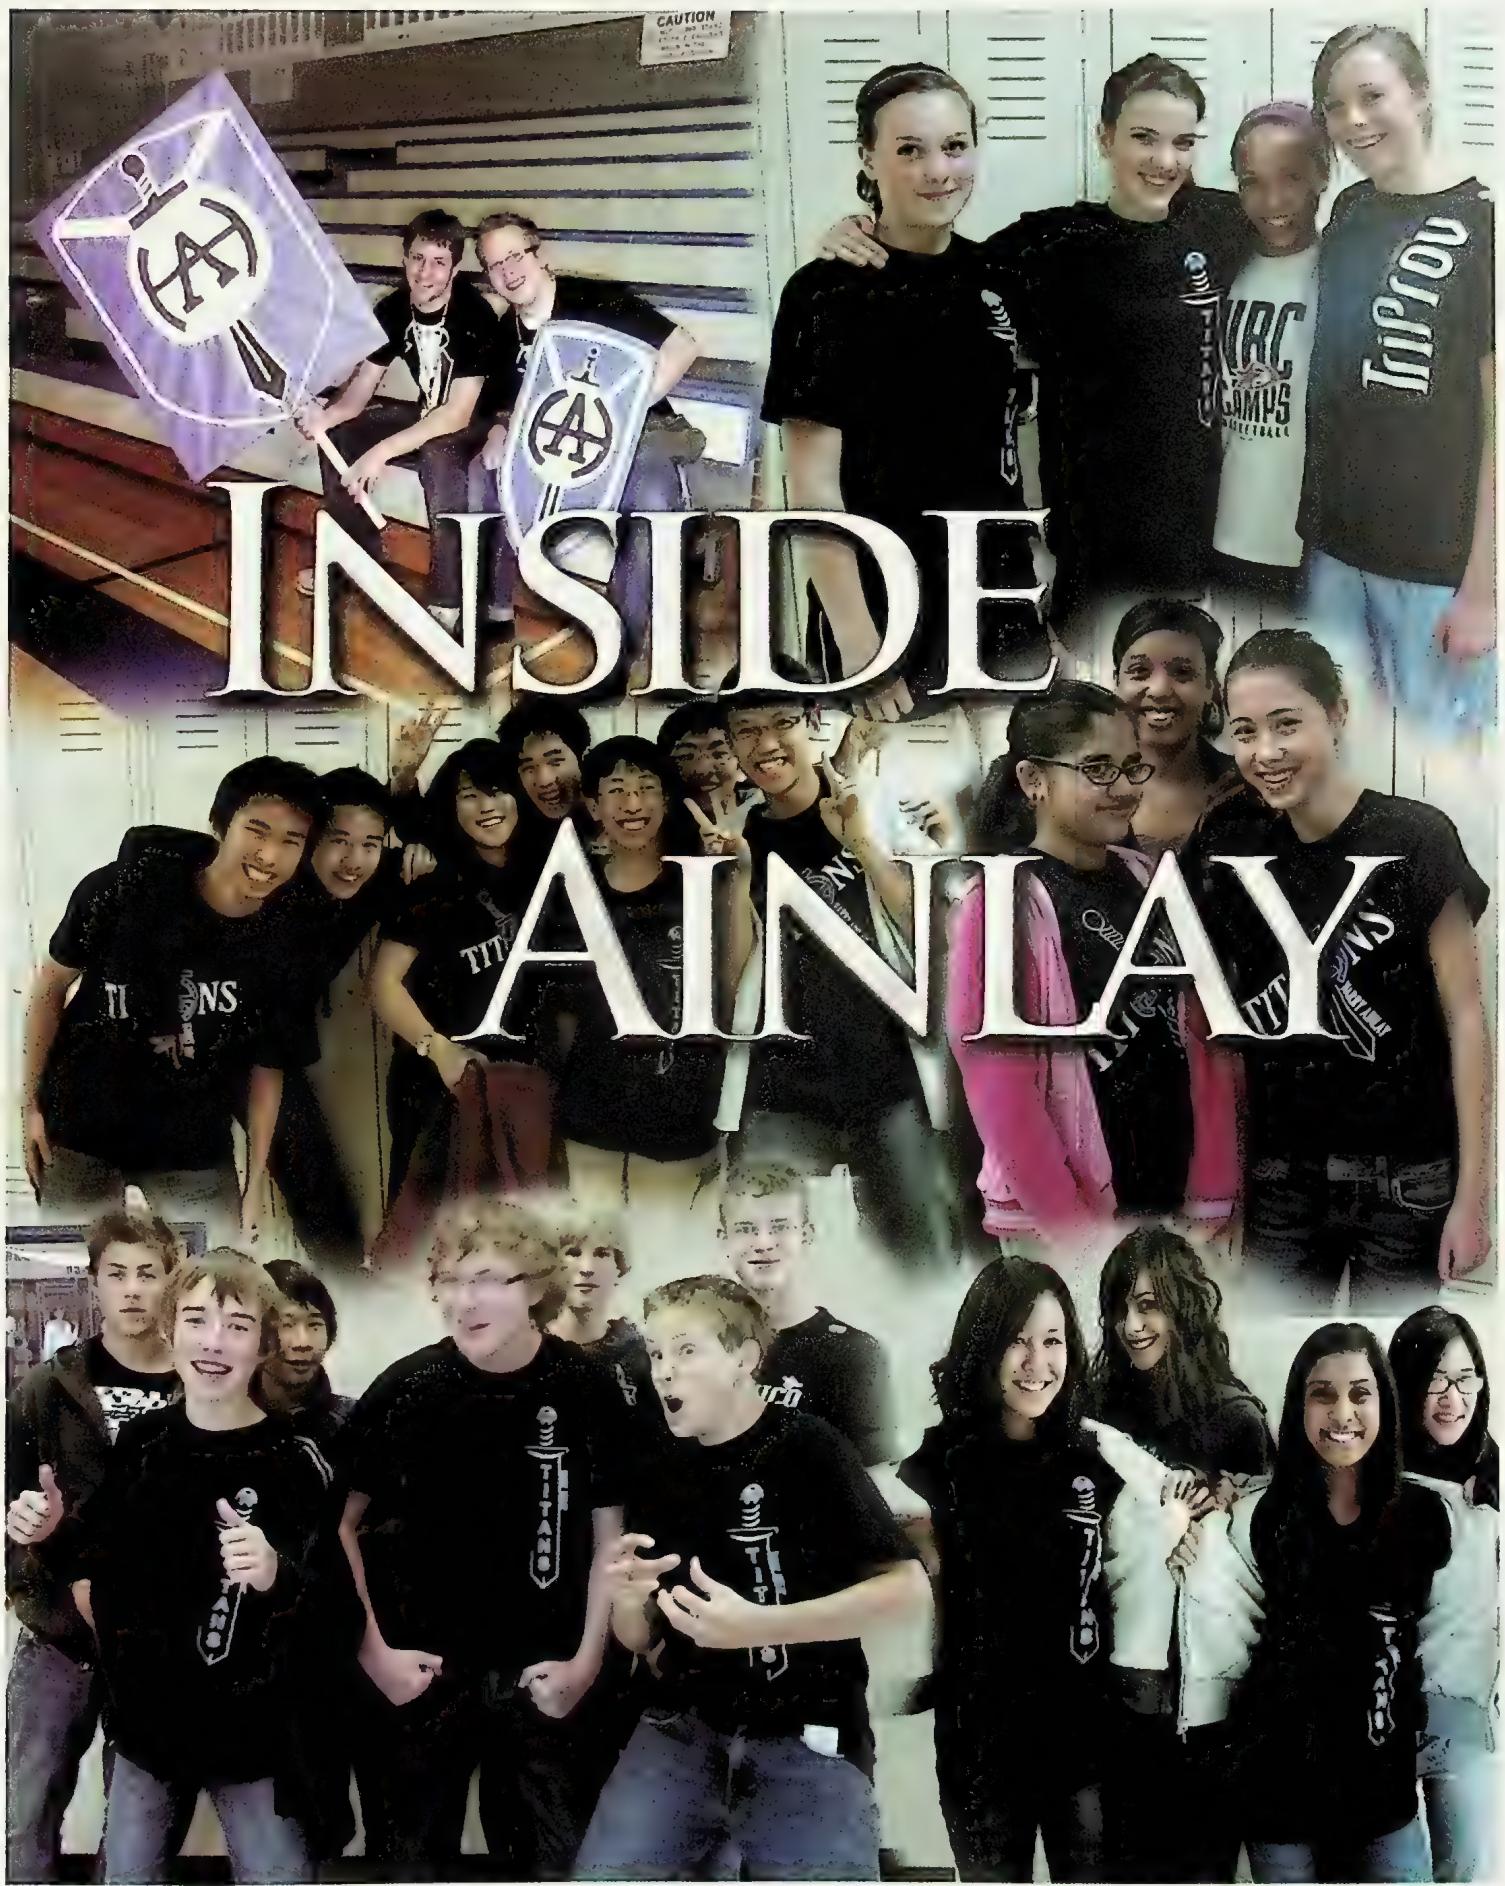

Wolfgang Theatre Club - The Ainlay Tech Team offered technical expertise to various events around the school including Guys & Dolls, Tri-Prov Opening Ceremonies and the One Act Festival. This dedicated team worked tirelessly in areas such as Lighting, Sound, Make-Up, Special Effects, Costume, Stage Management, and more.

Yearbook - This year, the Ainlay Yearbook Club had numerous students dedicating countless lunch hours creating Ainlay's 42nd yearbook. These students collaborated to collect pictures, edit write-ups, and create the pages which will be enjoyed by Ainlay students for many years to come. Thanks to all yearbook members for their hardwork and dedication.

Titan Pride

Titan Pride is the bond that holds all of us together day by day. We excel in academics, athletics, the arts and through our contributions to our school and community. Ainlay is the home of many outstanding students, each with talents, abilities and personalities that make one proud to be a Titan. Go to any sporting event and you will hear the roar of Titan Pride. Walk through the hallways and you will see posters and images that portray Titan Pride. Talk to any one of our 2300 students and you will hear 2300 different ways that Titan Pride is expressed. Deep inside each student's heart, Titan Pride, beats strongly. Once a Titan, Always a Titan!

Student Life

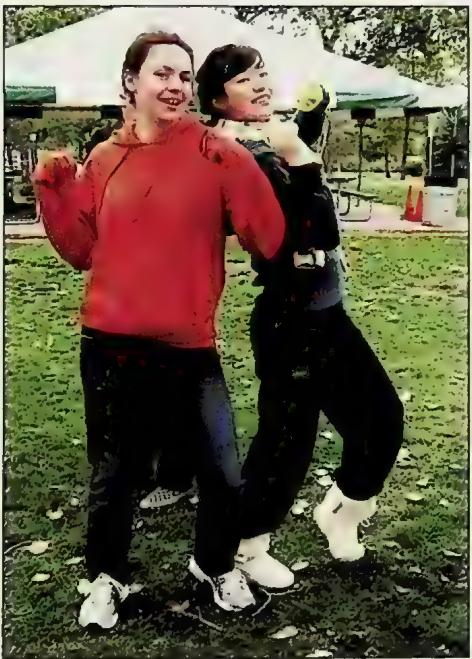

... Get up and Go!

Once again T.E.A.M. Leadership had another outstanding year. From the team building activities at Hawrelak Park to the inspirational presentation by Tyler Durman to Camp Warwa and to working with elementary students at A Walk Around the World, leadership students had amazing experiences. We can only imagine what the next year will bring!

Leading the Way!

Volunteers: Making It Happen!

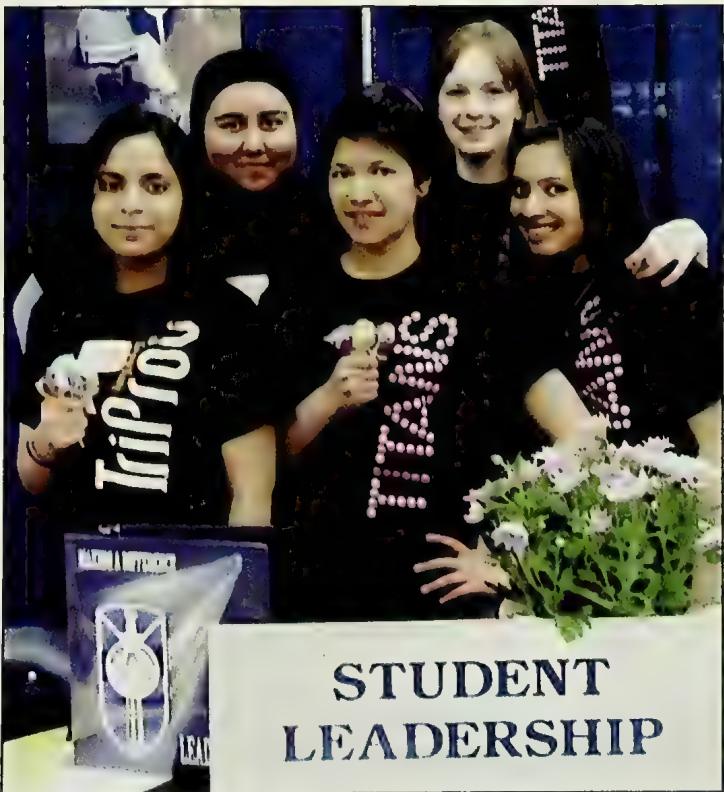

Student volunteers are the engine that drives every event and activity in the school. Without our dedicated volunteers, there would be no TVT, Touch of Class or Culture Fest. Volunteers do everything from sweeping the floors to master-minding the logistics behind events such as Graduation that involve thousands of participants. Thanks to everyone who was a volunteer; we all owe you all "Big Time."

SPORTS AND EVENTS

Link Crew

On August 30, 2007, roughly 740 new Titans participated in Link Crew. The Grade tens were introduced to the school through activities, tours, and presentations. This event could not have been a success without the amazing involvement of the A-Team, dream-team, leaders, executive, and teacher advisors. Link Crew 2007 was awesome!

Men's and Women's Golf

Ainlay's men and women participated in the Edmonton Zone Championships at The Links Golf Course in Spruce Grove. Despite a fine showing by both teams, neither qualified for provincials. Cole Chelle, who shot a 76 and finished 2nd overall, traveled to Lethbridge to compete in the Men's Provincial Golf Championships. After two days, Cole finished tied for 7th out of 120 golfers.

Cross Country

This year's team had a very successful season, beginning with the women's first place victory at McNally. Momentum continued, and five runners (Andrea Hill, Marcus Ivey, Kelsey Robson, Alana Soderberg and Nicole Soderberg) qualified for the provincial championships in Camrose. Congratulations to Kelsey, who became the senior women's provincial champion, as well as to Alana, fourth in the senior women's division, and to Nicole, fifth in the junior women's division. Thanks to all runners for an awesome season!

The Titan swim team had its best year to date. Attendance reached an all-time record, 81, of which 63 swimmers competed in the city finals. Our team placed second in Tier I at the city finals with many swimmers doing their personal bests at this final meet. Congratulations go out to our many Titans who won their event: Mahalia Coniah, Sam Dhar, Daisy Jar, Elaine Jar, Leanne Morgan, Calvin Ho, Stephen Wenzel – these are our City Champions! We look forward to an even bigger, better and more dynamic team next year.

Senior Football

Congratulations to the senior football team on their successful season this year. They finished with a record of 5 wins and only 1 loss during the regular season. They eventually won their 1st playoff game against ME Lazerte but lost their semifinal game in a tough fought battle. This year's team was extremely fast and a dominating force in the league. All players and coaches should be proud of their accomplishments this season.

Junior Football

With a high-powered offense and a hard-hitting defense, the Jr. Titans rolled through the regular season undefeated with a record of 7-0. The team ended up with the highest scoring offense and the lowest scored upon defense in the city. As well, Alex Bradley was honored as the league MVP. In the championship game, the Jr. Titans' dream season ended with their first loss of the season, 20-3. The football future at Ainlay looks bright.

Senior Men's Volleyball

This year's team enjoyed a tremendous season in which they won the city championships for the twelfth time in the last thirteen years!! The boys started strong by winning the U of A tournament and they continued this roll by winning the Bev Facey tournament. Led by all-star hitters Tommy Watson, Lyndon Mercier and Jay Olmstead, setter Jordan Baker and middle hitters Connor Fairbanks and Jonathan Suderman, the team won silver at both TVT and in Kelowna.

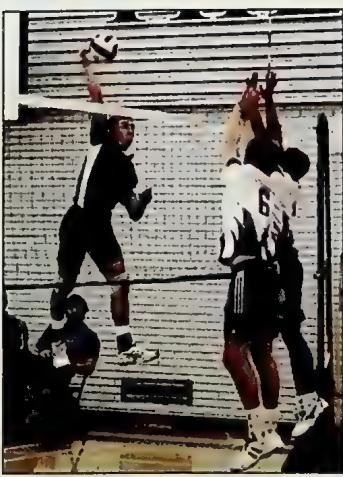

At provincials in Calgary, the boys finished first in their pool before losing a heartbreakin semi-final match. However, they went on to defeat Bev Facey to capture the bronze medal. Congratulations to all the players and coaches Jordan Abney and Scott Luck for an outstanding year.

Missing: Ms. A. Fleming (coach)

The Senior Women's volleyball team had a fantastic year! From the first day of tryouts to the last point of the season, the team was committed to being their best. The players continually challenged themselves each and every day and as a result of this dedication they were rewarded with many exciting successes. This year the ladies won the Bronze medal at the University of Alberta tournament, the silver medal at the Spruce Grove tournament, the consolation at TVT and the gold medal at the Kalamalka tournament in Vernon , BC. After winning the silver medal at the City Championship, the team went on to qualify for provincials. Playing their best and most exciting volleyball of the year, the team went on to convincingly capture the bronze medal at the Provincial Championships. Congratulations to all the athletes on an outstanding season!!

This year's team, consisting of ten Grade 10 and three Grade 11 students, had a very successful season, as they were undefeated in league play. Led by a dedicated coaching staff, the team won gold in three tournaments and silver in a fourth. Despite losing all but two players from last year's City Championship team, the Junior Men were once again able to capture the gold medal at this year's Premiere City Championship. With 10 athletes eligible to play on next year's team, the coaching staff is looking forward to another strong season next year!

Titan Volleyball Tournament

This year's TVT 007 was full of action! Opening ceremonies started the tournament off with a bang as many of Ainlay's other teams performed to help Bond defeat the bad guy. Throughout the three weeks, competition was excellent! Our international competitor, the Sr. Mens' team from Norway, took home the gold after narrowly defeating the Ainlay men in the final. All of Ainlay's teams performed admirably; the Jr. Men won silver, the Jr. Women, bronze and the Sr. Women captured the consolation final. The considerable time and effort the TVT executive, teachers, parents, and student volunteers spent organizing TVT 2007 made this tournament an incredible success. A big thanks to everyone who was involved in ACE-ing this tournament!

Halloween

Halloween once again cast a spell over Ainlay, transforming Titans into a wild assortment of food items, comic book critters and animals in search of candy. Many of these wacky characters took to the cat-walk at lunch to strut their stuff, astounding both students and judges.

Dodgeball

Student excitement was incredibly high for Ainlay's third annual dodgeball tournament which saw 32 student and 8 teacher teams competing at noon over a three week period. Hundreds of students packed the stands each day to watch their friends dip, dive, dodge and throw and the gym echoed with the sounds of their cheers. After several hard-fought games, veteran team We're at Work Right Now triumphed in the student tournament and defeated the teacher team Word in the student-teacher final.

Touch of Class

Ainlay Titans hit the red carpet on December 20th during "An Evening with the Stars". Students dressed up in their finest gowns and tuxedos, experiencing a high-class day of glamour and fashion. During the breaks students and staff were entertained by student musicians and were served tasty appetizers made by the foods classes. Lunch hour was full of picture taking opportunities on the red carpet. The Ainlay jazz band and jazz choir performed over lunch. Unforgettable memories were created as Ainlay celebrated Touch Of Class 2007!

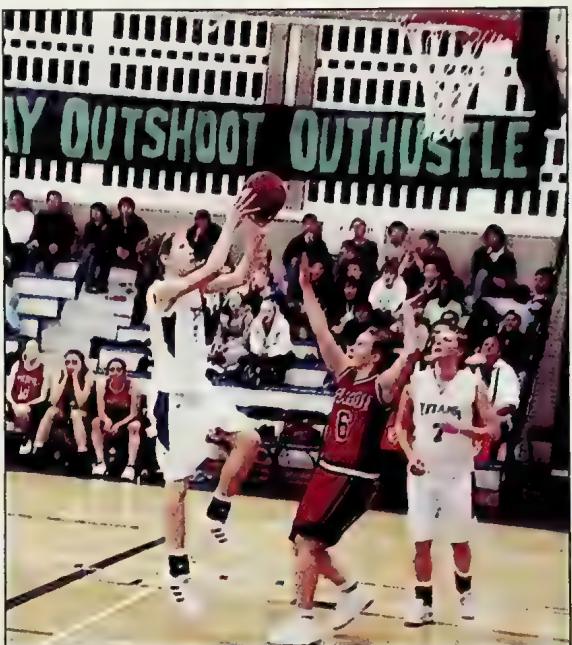

Aloha Ainlay

After months of sub-zero temperatures, it was a relief for many Ainlay students to arrive at school on Valentines Day in skirts, sarongs, shorts or T-shirts. At lunch, students and staff lined up in front of the Tiki Hut in the elaborately decorated rotunda to receive free Pina Coladas or Strawberry Daiquiris courtesy of Student Council.

Tri-Prov

Tri Prov's 2008 "Survivor" themed tournament proved to be another very successful event! Ainlay was privileged to host teams from the Yukon, Manitoba, Alberta, B.C. and our very own Titans! Such a tournament could not have been achieved if it were not for the co-chairs Ashwini Kulkarni and Amy Burnham and their hard working executive crews. The crews put on an entertaining opening ceremony, including the infamous Tommy Boy Watson, a hypnotic team social night and of course, some nail-biting, heart pounding, and competitive basketball. The first weekend was the junior tournament, where the Holy Cross men beat our Titans and the Cardston girls received the gold. The following weekend our Senior women's team took the gold against Lord Selkirk. To close off the senior tournament, in an extremely close battle, the Senior men lost to Western Canada by a score of 63-66. Thanks to all the players and fans for coming out and supporting Survivor 2008. Remember Titans to always out play, out shoot and out hustle.

Sr. Men's Basketball

The Titan Men won two tournaments this year, the Raymond Sugar Bowl and the LIT (Luther Invitational Tournament) in Regina. They finished first in the city but lost a heart-breaking city championship game to Ross Shep, giving the title back to them after Harry Ainlay had captured the championship in 06/07. They dug deep after the loss and still qualified for the ASAA Provincial Championships in Calgary. The team had a first round loss and rebounded back to win the consolation side of the draw. Even though it was not a Provincial Championship the team should be proud of the character they showed in the last games they played as a group. The athletes and coaches would like to extend a sincere thank you to all the students, staff and parents who supported the team throughout the year. The remaining team members would like to extend a special thank you to the graduating veterans and wish them great success in the future!

Sr. Women's Basketball Provincial Champions!

The Titan Women were able to do what the New England Patriots could not do in 2008, by winning the 4A Provincial championship finishing the season with a perfect record of 31 – 0. Regarded by many as one of the top high school programs in Canada, the Titans were gold medalists at the Jasper Place Reb Invitational, Magrath Christmas Classic, Sir Winston Churchill Rose Tournament, and our own Tri-Prov tournament. Defeating their opponents by an average of over 40 points during the season the Titans played with a high standard of sportsmanship and were respected by all for their commitment to team play. A remarkable year for an outstanding group of talented players!

Jr. Men Basketball

City Champions

The 2007 – 2008 Junior Men's Basketball team had another great season. From beginning to end, the team worked extremely hard and showed tremendous strength of character in pursuit of their goals. Each day, the team's enthusiasm and commitment helped them grow individually and improve their team skills. Tournament action saw the team take the gold medal at the Strathcona Invitational Tournament and the gold medal at the Jasper Place REB tournament. The team finished with the silver medal at our own Tri Prov Tournament, eventually losing to the Holy Cross Crusaders - the only team to beat the Titans this year. The team finished the regular season with a perfect 9-0 record and led the league in points scored and fewest points against. In playoff action, the junior men defeated the Jasper Place Rebels to win the gold medal and are City Champions!

Jr. Women Basketball

This year's edition of the Junior Women Titan's had a great season. The team started the basketball season with an awesome trip to Vancouver to play some very high level competition. During the regular season the team won all of their regular season games except for one. In the play-off the Titan's lost a heart breaker 2 point loss in the City Premier Conference semi-final. This group showed great team spirit all season and they were outstanding representatives of Harry Ainlay. Congratulations to the team for a great season!

Wrestling

Missing: Mr. M. Hughes (coach), Anthony Book

Despite some commitment issues, the wrestling team was very successful this year. With two gold medals in cities and eight people qualifying for provincials, Harry Ainlay showed its strength. A thanks goes to our coach, Steve Baylis, along with Mr. Bateman, for organizing and running the team. We had loads of fun playing murder ball, throwing each other to the mat and learning new and painful moves. Congratulations to all wrestlers this year and for those that are returning, Good Luck!

Badminton

City Champions

Due to their enthusiasm and optimism both on and off court, the Ainlay Badminton team has had an amazing year. Their talent and teamwork were the key factors in their success. Whether achieving the city championship or their amazing victories at provincials, the team demonstrated the excellence for which Titans are famous. Special congratulations to gold medalists Fanny Kung, May Yang, George Dal Bello, Carson Fong, and Nakul Arora as well as silver medalists David Xu and Jack Lu. Way to go Titans!

Culture Fest

"Everyday when you're walking down the street, everybody that you meet..." has an original background history! Arthur's theme song could be applied to walking through the hallways of Harry Ainlay, where one is certain to encounter people from many diverse backgrounds and origins. Culture Fest is Ainlay's traditional celebration of this diversity of backgrounds that can be seen throughout Canada. It is really our diversity that unites us, and Culture Fest proudly celebrates the resulting Cultural Mosaic. A big thank you to everyone who helped Culture Fest '08 be the great experience it was, we couldn't have done it without the volunteers, parents, sponsors, students, teachers, supervisors, and executives that gave in time and effort.

Black History Month

Under the direction of Cameron Browne, Amnesty International Social Justice Club organized a program, "A Journey to Freedom", to mark Black History Month 2008. We travelled from slavery, to African dance, to a blues rendition of "Somewhere Over the Rainbow", to Bob Marley's Redemption Song, to Martin Luther King's speech, to Hip Hop dance and a celebration of freedom. The sold out audience was left spellbound by the music, poetry and dance of Ainlay's black community.

CTS Week

The week of March 12th to the 14th was CTS week, a fun week of displays, activities and games which highlight the work of Career and Technology students. On Monday, students watched Ainlay videos and slides of sports and events. Tuesday we were all wowed by the 3-D digital Design Studies projects. The Cosmetology students did make-up demonstrations and the Fashion Studies students showed us their wonderful fashion creations. The Automotives department held an exciting pit crew tire changing contest. To wrap the week up on Friday the annual nail driving contest had hammers flying and sparks flying as students competed to be the top "nail driver."

Indoor Soccer

City Champions

With many returning players and a host of new players the Titans Indoor Soccer Team completed an undefeated season both in the regular season and playoffs to win their second city championship in 4 years. With notable performances from Mo Taliani, Shalla Kadima and Dan Allan, the Titans succeeded in winning the championship in a dramatic fashion. In their quarter final match the Titans defeated M.E. Lazerte in an exciting penalty shoot out that put them into the semifinal where they ran over Vimy Ridge by a score of 7-0. In the final the Titans dominated but could not score and the match ended in a nil nil draw. With previous penalty shoot-out experience and outstanding goal-keeping the Titans hoisted the trophy once again and completed a season where they accomplished 7 shut outs and outscored their opponents 57 to 15. Coach Hernandez would like to thank all the players for a wonderful season with many fantastic highlights.

IB New York Trip

New York City is big; so big that even if you bend your neck all the way back to your shoulder blades, you can barely see the tops of some of the buildings. So big, that it's hard to imagine that the World Trade Centers were two and a half times bigger than most of the buildings that we saw. The streets are always full, as are the subways. Always people, people everywhere. There is the smell of sewer, of nuts, of music, urine and cheesecake... And art; the museums are full too - Monets and Manets, Goya and Degas - and so big that you must open up like a sponge and let the beauty seep into a new porous you. New York is like a canvas, constantly being painted over, a revolving door. We will never forget the UN, South Street Seaport, Central Park (so long our feet bled), Haul Arse to Macy's, Times Square, flashing lights, Sean John, sidewalk "Gucci", cars, people, M+M's ground into the sidewalk, Broadway, the Subway, a man making music with pots and pans, an impromptu jam with red-capped break dancers, Yankee Stadium, Grand Central, a continuous loop of the same people coming and going. These are the reflections of number "8" on behalf of 16. "Hit the wall, Hit the wall, Hit the wall!"

Japan Trip

On March 25th we, a group of 23 Harry Ainlay students and two Japanese teachers, left Edmonton for an adventurous ten days in Japan. The first leg of our journey included a short day trip to get a glimpse of the busy life in Tokyo. We then headed out to Tokiwa High School in Mito city. The school and students warmly hosted us with cultural activities and a tour of the local sites. The students were placed with homestay families where they personally experienced the generosity and hospitality of the Japanese people. The second leg of our journey comprised of a couple days in the Kyoto area visiting temples, shrines and other cultural sites, as well as time touring modern business and shopping areas. We ended our trip with a second homestay experience in Hiroshima. We toured the Peace Memorial Museum, which commemorates the bombing of Hiroshima, and heard, first hand, the tragic experience of a survivor of the atomic bombing. The students were visibly touched by this sobering experience. The next day, we travelled the long way back to home and safely arrived in Edmonton on Friday night, April 4th. The 2008 Japan Trip was a huge success and an experience we are sure the students will never forget. Mr. D. Ito

France-Spain Trip

Titans visited Paris, Barcelona, Segovia, Toledo and Madrid over Spring Break. Forty-five students along with Ms. Armstrong, Ms. Boyle, Mr. Heidt and Mr. Hernandez experienced the culture, cuisine and sights of France and Spain. Traveling like the locals by the famous Paris Metro to the Louvre, Notre Dame, Versailles, Montmartre, Disneyland, and of course the Eiffel Tower was an adventure itself! Students welcomed the warmth and sun of Spain as they toured Gaudi's Parc Guell and La Sagrada Familia in Barcelona, the Roman aqueduct in Segovia, the museums, parks and palaces in Madrid and the medieval city of Toledo. Students had the opportunity to practice their French and Spanish as they supported the local economy of each place visited!

One Act Play Festival

Harry Ainlay's One Act Play Festival for 2008 was a HUGE success! There were a record-breaking 12 student directed and acted plays. Three of these plays were written by students. The productions of See Bob Run and English Made Simple were chosen to advance to the City Festival. English Made Simple was one of two plays chosen to represent the City of Edmonton at the provincial festival in Red Deer. Harlan Bertolin was recognized for Outstanding Achievement in Acting, Jaime Whiting received Honourable Mention for Stage Management, and the Technical Team received Honourable Mention for Professionalism.

IB Art Show

The annual IB Art Show was held on April 18th in the Ainlay Art Gallery. The artists, Keith Baldoz, Mahvash Fatmi, Michael Fok, Ji Yeon Kim, Diana Law, Milena Lorsignol, Kristen Dochuk, Jenna Hamller, Anna Moore, James Rebstock, Yugina Song, Stephanie Wilson, Rowan El-Bialy, and Deanna Mazur each displayed several pieces of their artwork. The event was attended by over two hundred people who enjoyed food, beverages and an inspiring display of creative and challenging artwork.

Gala Français

Le Gala Français 2008 was held on Thursday, April 24, 2008, featuring our own Mlle. Smith as a guest speaker. This event is an annual local public speaking competition and showcase providing an opportunity for students in the various French programs at all grade levels in Edmonton Public Schools to demonstrate and celebrate their great talents in French. Harry Ainlay students again demonstrated their excellence!!! Félicitations à tous les participants et à tous les gagnants! Congratulations to all the participants and to all the winners!!! See you next year at Ross Sheppard High School on April 23, 2009! Concours d'art Oratoire

André Charbonneau, who won a $5 000 scholarship to the University of Ottawa by entering an essay competition, was invited to Ottawa in May to compete in an national speech competition. André placed 3rd out of seven and received an additional $2,000 award. Moeah Dupuis was also invited to Ottawa for the second year. While there, the candidates were treated to a tour of Parliament and a dinner was held in their honour. Félicitations to both of them!

Skills Canada

Skills Canada is a competition held at regional, provincial, national and international levels. Best described as the Olympics of Trade and Technology, the Skills Competition allows young people to represent their school in a competition representing a wide variety of trade and technological events. This year is a qualifying year to become a part of Team Canada that will compete against the world in Calgary 2009. This year's competition held at the Calgary Stampede Park, saw 12 Ainlay students competing in the following areas: Auto Service, Baking, Mechanical CADD, Architectural CADD, IT Network Support, Hairstyling, Welding, Women's Apparel Design, and TV Video Production. The students rose to the challenge, competing in events that lasted up to 16 hours over two days. At the regional competition Jordan Langois won the gold medal in Welding which qualified him to compete against the top welders in the province. At the provincial Competition Kevin Lau won the gold in IT Network Support and joined Team Alberta to compete at the National level. We are very pleased that Kevin placed third in Canada winning the bronze medal. Leanne Doherty competing in Architectural CADD, won the bronze medal at the Provincial level. This year's Titan competitors included: Norbert Gabling, Amanda Davidson, Joel Adria, Jane Jang, George Wu, Nathan Evenesheen, Frances Wong, Mercedes Cameron, and Jamis Turner. The students are very dedicated and put in numerous hours in preparation and aimed for excellence in their respective competitions. The philosophy of the Provincial Skills Competitions is to reward students for excellence, to directly involve industry in evaluating student performance and to keep training relevant to employers' needs. We will continue to work toward meeting this goal and strive for excellence here at Ainlay. Sound like something you would be interested in? Talk to any CTS teacher at Ainlay and they will put you in touch with the info you need to compete against the best! Or go to www.skillsalberta.com for more info. Congratulations to all competitors!

Women's Handball

This was the second year Ainlay put together a women's handball team. The team managed to beat or tie teams that had much more experience than them and worked hard to build a foundation for next year. In fact, four players were asked to try out for Team Alberta. If not for a few key injuries, this season would have been very successful. Either way, the team had fun and we continued to grow a very young program.

Men's Handball

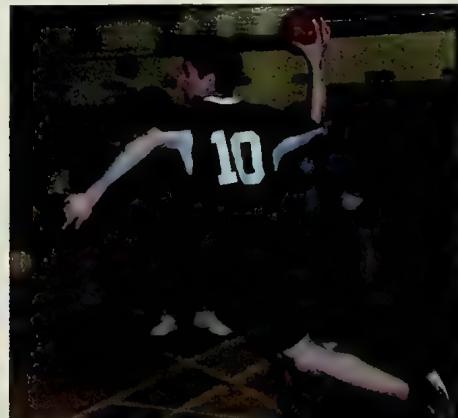

This was the third year for the senior men's handball team and it was our most successful to date. The team placed third at the Queen Elizabeth Invitational tournament and second at the provincial tournament. Three players were named tournament all stars at provincials and nearly half of the team was asked to try out for Team Alberta. All in all it was a great year for Ainlay Handball!

Sr. Men's Rugby

The 2008 Senior Men's Rugby Team was in the midst of a rebuilding period this season. With brand new coaches and mostly new players, the learning curve for this group was very steep, though they managed to stay competitive in all games. Despite facing some very experienced teams, the boys managed to play with heart in all of their games this season. With most of the roster returning next year, we are confident that we will be able to come out next year and be a top 4 team. Best of all, the athletes had a great time playing, and competed to the best of their abilities in every game we played.

Sr. Women's Rugby

The senior women's rugby team had a challenging year in terms of wins and losses. Overall though, the team remained positive. Of the 30 players on the team, only five are in Grade 12 and at least ten of our players were in their first year. We can't wait to see what these young players can do next year with some experience.

Junior Men's Soccer

The Harry Ainlay Titan's Junior Men's Soccer Team had an exceptional season in all respects. They finished second in the league during the regular season and made it to the City Championship game before eventually losing to a very strong Jasper Place squad. Our goals from the outset of the season were to improve our team play with every match and to reach the championship game; both goals were achieved. The men played with creative flair and passion, scoring often brilliant goals and defending with skill and tenacity. More importantly, they treated their teammates, opponents and officials with class and dignity. This was one of the most disciplined teams to take the field at Harry Ainlay, with the entire team earning the grand total of only one yellow card the entire season. These players were fitting representatives of Titan character and pride and each and every player on this team has the potential to play at a higher level, either as a member of the Titans' senior team or through any of the innumerable opportunities for competitive play offered in the Edmonton area.

Senior Men's Soccer

In 2008 The senior men's soccer team completed the regular season in 4th place. This forced them into a 4th vs 5th place qualifying match with Queen Elizabeth. The Titans dominated the match winning 4-0 and qualifying to play Scona the first place team in the league. In a tactically precise match the Titans defeated Scona 3-2. The semifinal saw them take on East Glenn a team which had eliminated Ainlay on two previous occasions. In a thrilling 3-2 match the Titans stormed into the final on a late winner by Trung Nguyen. This put them into the final vs. Wagner for the 3rd time in a City Final match. In the highlight match of the season the Titans held a tight 2-1 lead early into the second half. With an explosion of goals led by John Pegg who finished with four on the day, Ainlay dominated the second half scoring three unanswered goals and finishing as Champions with a 7-2 result. Coach Hernandez would like to thank all the members of his team especially third year players Kevin Bruynson, Dan Allan, and Adam El-Bhoussini who helped lead the team to another gold medal.

Senior Women's Soccer

The Senior Women's Soccer Team completed another successful season. The year started with an awesome experience at the University of Victoria High School Invitational where top teams from across Alberta and British Columbia met to compete. The team was winning the semi-final 1-0 when the tournament was cancelled due to, would you believe it, a snow storm! The season that followed was great! This was a super group of players who worked hard and played together as a team in every game. In the playoffs, we lost a heart breaker in the Premier Conference semi-final losing in a shootout after dominating play during the final 40 minutes. This was a team that played with great pride and character, proudly representing Harry Ainlay High School. Congratulations on an awesome season!

Track and Field

The 2008 outdoor track & field season was very successful for the Harry Ainlay Titans. Forty five athletes competed at the City Championships on May 24th. Eighteen students qualified and went on to Provincials in Calgary, Alberta May 30th and 31st. At the Provincials, the team won two gold medals, three silver medals as well as one bronze. Overall the Titans finished 7th in the 4A provincial team category. Double gold medal winners Jenny Rintoul (100m & 200m) and Alana Soderberg (800m & 1500m) will be missed next year as they move on to university level competitions. Thanks to everyone that competed, especially the grade 12 graduating athlete's.

GRADUATION

Graduation Committee

Although graduation has definitely been a memorable experience for all of us, the moments that have truly defined us as individuals were the ones that we have unknowingly stumbled upon. These twelve years of school have provided us with countless opportunities which have enriched us with knowledge and maturity. As we took our first steps in high school, we were not expecting to meet the many new friends we did, or to face as many difficulties as we did. However, we were able to overcome our setbacks and move on. By the time we reached Grade 11, we were relatively familiar with our school and the hundreds of faces we would see on a daily basis. We would get involved in further Titan activities as well as community projects because we were no longer shy and intimidated. Grade 12 arrived in a flash, but yet we never ceased to encounter new situations with new people. We continuously discover meaning in our lives and proved to many our exceeding potential. Graduation does not only celebrate the completion of our Grade 12 year, but rather our accomplishments throughout our growing process.

Insaf Ahmed - Graduation President

For most students enrolled at Harry Ainlay, graduation has been a highly anticipated event. Now that we've finally reached our goal, we are left with a bittersweet feeling knowing that we have accomplished so much throughout the past three years, but now it is time for us to move on.

From our first days of Grade 10, astonished by the largeness of our school, to our graduation day, walking across the stage facing thousands of people, our perspective on life has considerably expanded. A few have taken their first high school steps with the comfort of knowing that they have a close circle of friends on whom they can rely on to keep them going. We have all surely made unforgettable new friends and acquaintances. Teachers and parents have also had their share of influence on our lives. Without them, we would not be the individuals we are today.

I hope that in the future when we are each flipping through the pages of our yearbook, we will smile at the pictures and reminisce about the times we've enjoyed in our high school years because these were the moments that have had an impact on our character and lives. Most of us have experienced the dreaded all-nighters on which we can each genuinely hope to never suffer through again. Some learn from their mistakes and note to themselves that procrastination usually leads to sleepless nights, especially when a last minute assignment is due the following day. It is now time for us to break out of our old habits and pave ourselves a new road.

Although graduation marks the end of 12 successful years, it is nowhere near the end of our journey. The tables have turned and it is now up to us to make a difference in our world. Whether it is by inspiring others or simply by putting on a smile, the future depends on us. Let us all celebrate this milestone with people we will always remember.

"These are the moments, These are the times, Let's make the best out of our lives."

Grad Fashion Show

This year, Harry Ainlay's Fashion Show and Gala of 2008 was taken over by carnival spirit! The fashion show featured 38 models who exhibited the most savvy fashion collections for spring provided by Southgate Shopping Centre. Our guests also enjoyed great food and prizes and competitive bidding on auctions items. Exciting performances were a new addition to this annual fundraiser. Hip hop routines were performed by our very own Titans: Keith Baldoz, Ela Rydz, and Vicky Yi, as well as by Ainlay's own hip hop dance crew, 2K8. Mimes from our very own Drama 20 class entertained our guests during our intermission with their amazing talent. The Fashion Show finished off with a song sung marvelously by Christina Dennehy and Arlie Worthing. The Graduation Committee raised approximately $2000 with this extravagant event. We thank all of those who supported us! - Jane Jang, Fashion Show & Gala Director

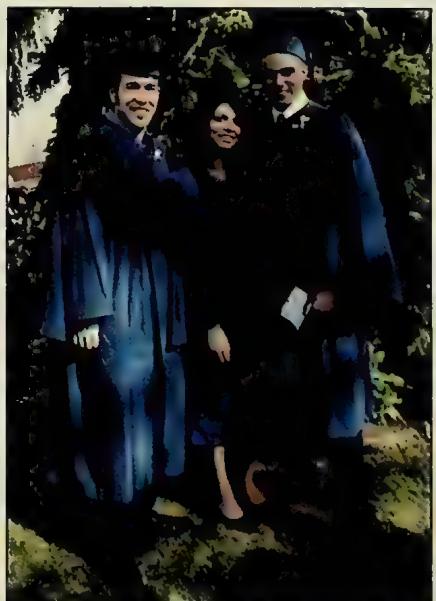

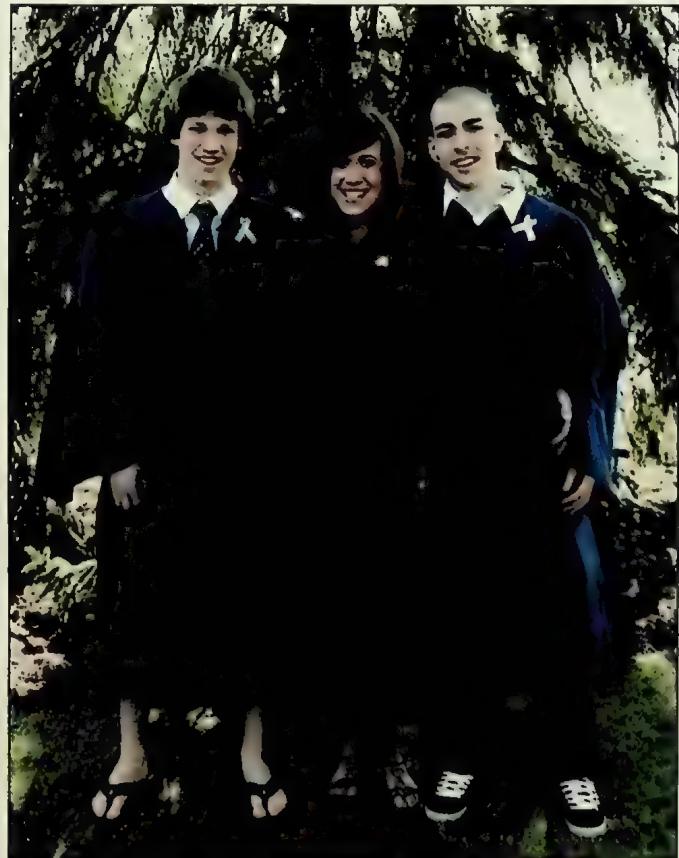

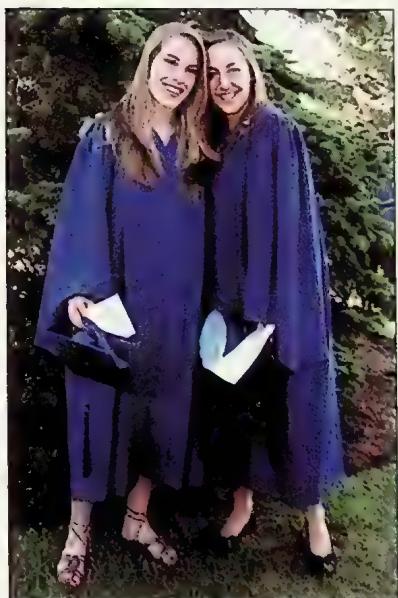

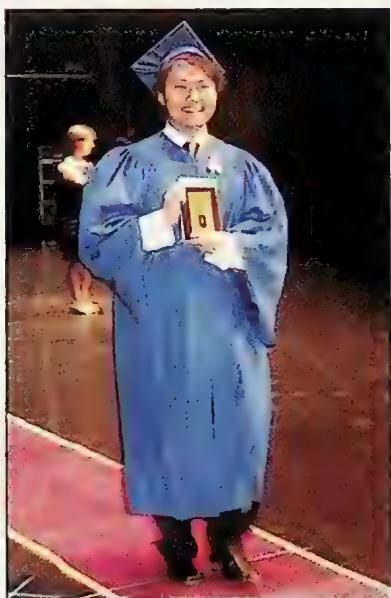

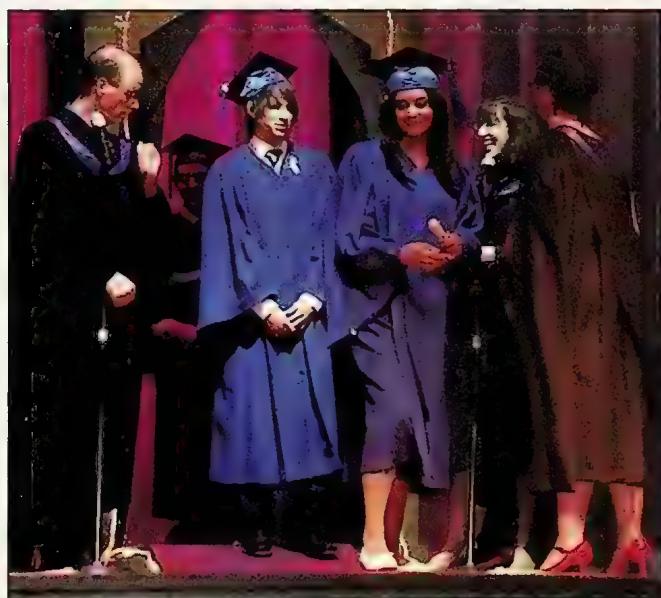

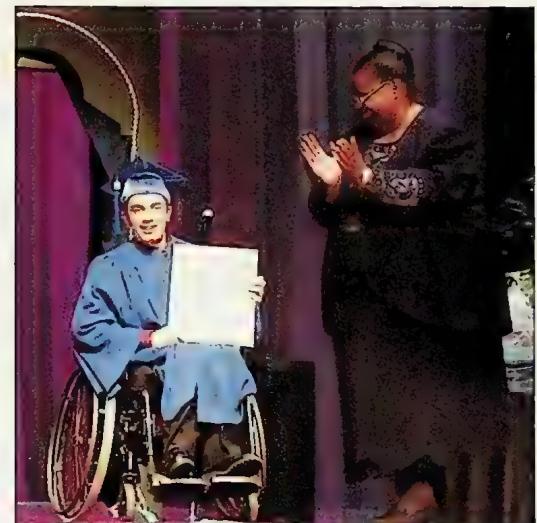

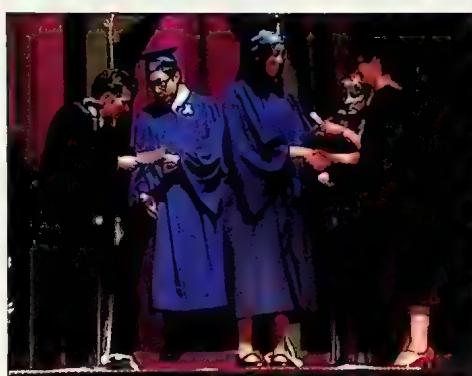

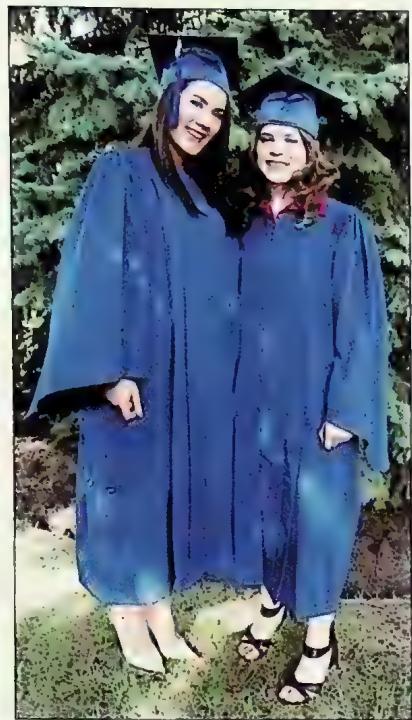

Graduation Commencement

On Friday, May 23, 2008 the Grade 12's Commencement and Awards Ceremony was held at the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium. The evening was a thrilling experience for everyone to celebrate the accomplishments and achievements of the students. The inspiring speeches from our guest speaker, Mr. Liguori, and Valedictorian, Alexandra Seal, allowed us to reflect not only on the past three years here at Ainlay but on the past twelve years during which we have formed many bonds and faced many challenges that have significantly affected who we are today. The astonishing performances from the students truly made the night a memorable one. As we turn a new chapter in our lives, we must remember that each of us have the power within us to make a difference in the world be it small or big.

We would like to thank you all for joining us in making the Commencement and Awards ceremony one that will always be remembered. We wish you all the best in your future endeavours and remember that "these are the moments, these are the times, let's make the best out of our lives."

-Sayyeda Mavani and Najiba Muheeby – Commencement Co-Chairs

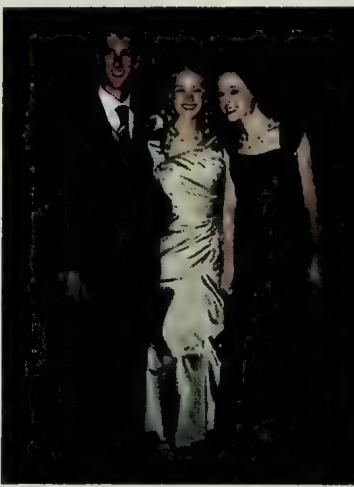

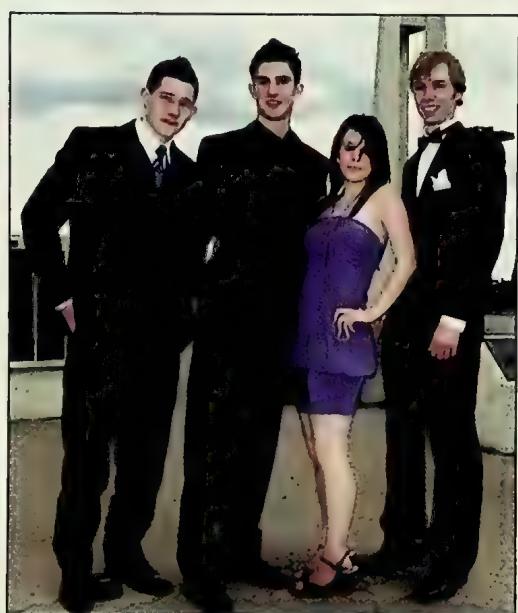

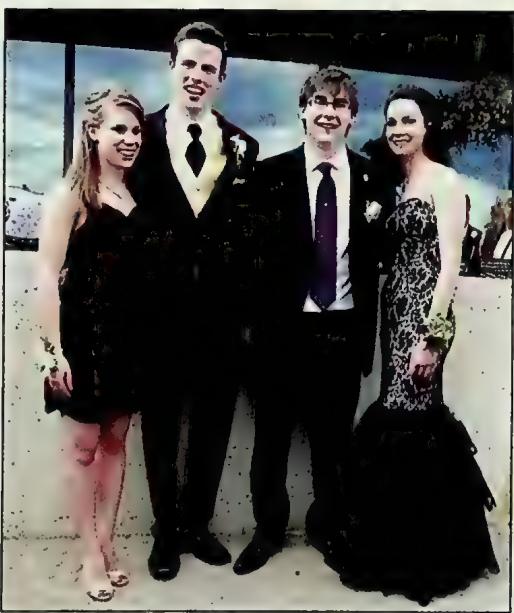

Graduation Banquet

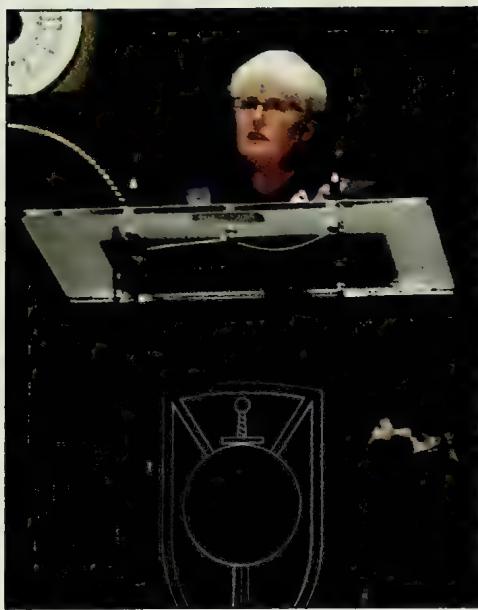

The celebratory moments and times of Graduation Banquet 2008 are ones to be remembered by all. On May 24th, 2008, graduands, family, friends and staff all gathered at the Shaw Conference Centre to honour the accomplishments of our graduating class. As the evening began, the lobby of the Shaw Conference Centre began to fill with excited graduands and their families taking pictures and making memories as they looked forward to the much anticipated banquet. The delighted chaos was then managed as everyone eagerly awaited entrance into the hall. As the graduands and fellow guests entered the hall a feeling of true refinement was created by the classic black tablecloths accented with the metallic silver and blue balloon decorations all working in conjunction with the soft lighting to compose this elegant ambience. The evening then commenced with the processional and introduction of this year's Graduation Executive and their guests at the head table as well as a welcome to all guests for sharing this special occasion with all graduands. This was promptly followed by a touching and commemorative Toast to the Parents given by Sierra and Alanna Poole. They thanked all parents for all of their dedication and hard work in assisting us to get where we are today. Mr. Poole then offered a nostalgic reply, recognizing all of the hard work and struggles experienced in our journey to reaching our graduation. Next, our Student Council President, Amy Heidebrecht gave a gratuitous and appreciative toast to the hardworking and vigilant staff at Harry Ainlay without which we would not have graduated. Mrs. Peters replied to the toast commemorating the hard work the graduating class of Harry Ainlay has shown in upholding the longstanding tradition of excellence in academics, leadership, fine arts and athletics. Then, it was finally time for dinner as Courtney Proctor was called upon to provide the Blessing for the night's meal as she encompassed the central ideas of all the toasts in thanking all staff, students and parents in celebrating the night's events. As the much-anticipated three-course dinner was served, the hall began to bustle with excitement as people saw the delicate intricacies and composition of the visually appealing salad followed by a chicken dinner and finished off with a delicious chocolate dessert. As dinner concluded many of the excited graduands began to visit and celebrate with their friends and marvel at this most momentous and notable evening in our lives. Kirsten Yu then regained the attention of the crowd with a captivating vocal performance as she sang Diana Degarmo's, "I Believe" which was truly fitting for the evening's events. The Class of 2008, represented by Natasha Hansraj and Gajra Goyal, Banquet and Secretary/Treasurer Assistants then showed their true appreciation to Harry Ainlay by presenting the gifts to the school and community. This year the gifts included a Webcasting System that will broadcast the many Ainlay events and a financial contribution to the Harry Ainlay Graduate Merit Scholarship. As Mrs. Boyle graciously accepted our gifts, it is our hope that these gifts will represent our many thanks to Harry Ainlay for all that it has done for us. As the program came to a close, all of the staff advisors, without which the night would not have been possible, were graciously thanked. The graduands were reminded to make smart decisions as we move on to the next step in our academics, careers and personal lives. The dance portion of the banquet then commenced with our graduation song, "Our Lives" by the Calling inviting all mothers and sons, and fathers and daughters to have the first dance. As graduands danced the night away until midnight, they had the memories created over the past three years at Harry Ainlay and the events of this extraordinary night to celebrate. Graduation Banquet 2008 was truly a night for all graduands to treasure and always remember "these moments and these times".

Alykhan Gillani, Banquet Chairperson 2008

Trustee Ms. C. Ripley Message

Good evening to all of the students, families, friends and staff who have gathered here tonight to celebrate the accomplishments of the 2008 graduating class of Harry Ainlay High School. I am very pleased to be here tonight to bring greetings on behalf of the Board of Trustees of Edmonton Public Schools.

As we all know, Harry Ainlay has a long tradition of excellence, and as the Class of 2008, I understand that you have contributed to this legacy in extraordinary ways and you have inspired your teachers, parents and the school district along the way. Thank you!

I understand that this year, many different Ainlay teams have had spectacular seasons including (but not limited to) provincial championships for the Senior Women's Basketball and Titans Cheer teams, City Championships for the Senior Men's Volleyball, badminton, and indoor soccer teams, and the list goes on.

I also commend your efforts to make the world a better place – by participating in such events as Unicef's "Spread the Net Campaign," the annual "Fill the Pillars" food drive , the 12 th Annual "Culturefest" and the upcoming Walk Around the World event for over 500 elementary students.

Added to these achievements, and to your legacy, are the incredible successes you've had in the arts and academics as well. For example, the symphonic band received gold at the Seattle Heritage Music Festival.

This year's IB class is the 25th group of Ainlay students to graduate from this rigorous program of studies, and congratulations to the 70 French language students who wrote the DELF exams. The DELF is an international exam that tests the efficiency of a student in French and successful results are recognized in 161 countries, thus opening many doors for students. Indeed... it has been a stellar year on all fronts, and you should be proud of yourselves.

Shortly you will be walking across the stage to receive your diploma and be switching your tassel from left to right.

Your diploma is a significant achievement. Be proud of it and yourself. Your diploma is also symbolic.

It is symbolic of the times you pushed yourselves beyond what you thought were your limits....and came out the other side.

It is symbolic of your willingness to ask questions about the world around you. Don't stop doing that!

It is symbolic of your energy in pursuing the answers to those questions and deepening your understanding and your skills along the way.

As I said, be proud of your diploma and all the learning it stands for. It is significant because it marks the end of one part of your educational journey and the beginning of a new part of your journey. As you walk through that door as a proud high school graduate from Edmonton Public Schools, I encourage you to keep learning and to celebrate learning wherever you go.

You may choose to travel, enter the workforce, start or continue an apprenticeship program, or proceed into post-secondary studies. Whatever situations you find yourselves in, you will be able to apply the knowledge and skills you already possess and use your talents and strengths, and then from each experience, you'll be able to learn something new.

In this way, you will be able to navigate a complex and ever-changing world with confidence and take your place in society as an informed global citizen.

Think critically, keep on asking the questions that need to be asked, take risks. Share your ideas, give back to the community, think of others. Believe in your vision and have faith in your abilities.

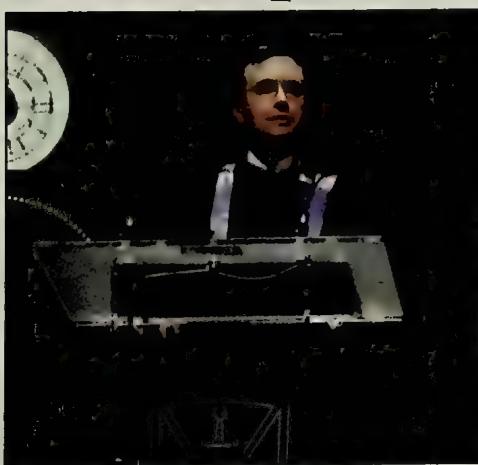

Finally, I ask you also to share the story of the excellent education you've had here at Harry Ainlay and how it has prepared you well for the rest of your life's journey. Celebrating and supporting public education in this way will help to pave the way for others whose school journeys are just beginning. It will help to safeguard public education, which is the cornerstone of a just, prosperous and democratic world.

Graduates, your graduation theme this year: "These are the moments! These are the times!" points to how momentous your time here has been. You have collected many memories, formed great friendships, defined your ambitions and aspirations, learned about excellence – and built a strong foundation of skill, knowledge and good character that will hold you in good stead for a meaningful and fulfilling life ahead.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, congratulations and best wishes for continued success.

Thank you.

Superintendent Mr. E. Schmidt Message

Good evening students, staff and guests joining us for this very special event.

As students and as individuals, this milestone marks the formal transition from one important part of your lives to another. Similar celebrations will be held for students across our city. What do these ceremonies have in common? They are celebrating the completion of over a decade of education. These have been your formative years, during which you have developed the skills, knowledge and attitudes you will need for a successful and fulfilling life.

Ainlay's strong focus on developing a student's character within a vibrant, diverse learning community is one of its hallmarks. This founding principle has undoubtedly helped to shape you into the person you are today – a person who can look toward the future with a sense of purpose, with conviction and optimism. Along with your studies, you have been developing the virtues of respect, responsibility, honesty, forgiveness, fairness and integrity. You have attended a high school that is a microcosm of the world in which we live - Ainlay brings together a wide array of nationalities and has succeeded in creating a school spirit that celebrates multiculturalism, and the basic tenants of tolerance and equality.

As you stand at the threshold of your own unique, new beginnings, be steadfast in your commitment to uphold these values, and never fail to impart them to others.

- Skilled, knowledgeable individuals who know the value of lifelong learning.
- Motivated self-starters who are able to plan, prepare and persevere in order to achieve their dreams.
- Caring and hard working citizens who are contributing members of society.
- Confident, courageous visionaries who are willing to make a positive difference in their communities.

These characteristics should apply to every one of our graduates. As the Class of 2008, you should be very proud to have already demonstrated that you hold these key attributes. Your dedicated efforts to reach a high standard of academic achievement, to excel at sports, the arts, to be involved in charitable events and important causes - these all illustrate just how multifaceted and varied your talents are and those of your classmates. I encourage you to seize the opportunities that present themselves to you, walk through doors that open for you and push open the ones that don't.

I hope the memories you have of your years here are happy ones and I hope you cherish them for a lifetime. I am sure you feel a great deal of gratitude for the tremendous amount of help you have received while you've attended Ainlay. Please take a moment to thank your families, friends, incredible teachers and school staff for their constant encouragement and support over the years. I know they are very proud of you and share in your sense of accomplishment.

Graduates, now is the time to put the outstanding education you've received into action, to dare to make your visions of a bright future a reality.

Congratulations to each of you and all the best for an exciting and rewarding future.
Thank you.

ate about and the rest will follow. You may need to try a lot of jobs before you figure out what you love.

2. Focus – Become single-minded in pursuit of your goals and develop the ability to ignore distractions.

3. Ideas – Anyone can come up with good ideas – instead of thinking of them as creative, think of ideas as things to solve problems.

4. Improve – Strive to become the best at what you do. Focus on your strengths and practice.

5. Serve – Even if you find your passion and work hard, you won't succeed unless you provide something of value to others.

Savor your memories – of friends and family. These "times and moments" have provided you with a solid foundation for your future. In closing, thank you for being the most amazing students that any principal could ask for. I wish you well in all of your future endeavors and remember to hold you head high because you are a Titan.

next step in their education.

Now who can forget the athletic prowess of this class? This year they won: The Indoor City Soccer, Provincial Girls' Sr. Basketball, Provincial Cheerleaders.

Nothing happens without effective student leadership. Through participation in Students Union, the backbone of many events, these young people have demonstrated that effective leadership is moral, purposeful and collaborative. CultureFest, Walk Around the World and a Touch of Class were spectacular events. Together with the Athletics Department, Student Union and Fine Arts, Tri Prov and TVT have become nationally recognized events. Our Fine Arts Program is second to none.

I know the accomplishments of our Grad Class of 2008 could not have been achieved without the support of parents and Harry Ainlay staff. To parents, families and caregivers – thank you for supporting the young people that we honour this evening. Your partnership with Harry Ainlay School, former elementary and junior highs throughout the past thirteen years has contributed to the success of these students.

To Harry Ainlay staff – you make a difference in the lives of students each and every day. Thank you for your patience, perseverance and compassion. Students appreciate being treated with dignity and respect and they will carry your guidance and your teachings for many years to come.

Grads, you have chosen the theme "These are the moments. These are the times." Let me provide you with my perspective. Because of your social and intellectual purpose, you are well on your way to success. A few weeks ago, I came across a review of a book written by Richard St. John. St. John interviewed 500 successful people over 10 years and examined their experiences to figure out how they achieved success. He wrote the book with teenagers in mind.

1. Passion – Find the work you're passion-

These Are The Times. It is a privilege for me to be the principal of Harry Ainlay, a school rich in tradition and excellence. Tonight we honour Harry Ainlay's Class of 2008 and celebrate their completion of one stage of life long learning – their public school education.

As I stand before these graduates, it is with great pleasure that I extend celebratory comments to the many stakeholders who have gathered together to honour each and every student here this evening. Grads, I can see from the twinkle in your eyes that you are proud of your accomplishments. You have worked hard and you have persevered to earn the necessary credits to be awarded a high school diploma.

I would like to share with the Harry Ainlay community members why the Harry Ainlay staff is so proud of this class.

First let's talk about Student Achievement. Consistently, over 35% of this class achieved the standard of honours in all classes over the past three years. The participation rate in core courses exceeds provincial averages. Our IB Program is recognized as one of the largest programs across Canada.

Universities have recognized the talents of many students by rewarding them with scholarships. In addition I am so pleased that many students have chosen a profession in the trades and industry as a

Guest Speaker - Mr. M. Liguori

Good Evening ladies and gentlemen, honoured guests, families and members of Harry Ainlay's graduating class of 2008. Your theme song for this year's graduation "Our Lives" serves as a spring board for my words this evening. 30 years ago, very much like you are this evening, I sat in an audience and listened as myself and my fellow graduands were congratulated on our accomplishments and encouraged to pursue future goals and dreams. My role this year is very different, both with you this evening and with Edmonton Public Schools. To some of you, your memory of me, as mine is of yours, may be as vivid as the first day our paths crossed or as dim as a distant star. Although we have not been together for a year, our lives have influenced not only the experiences you have had, but very well the ones which lay ahead.

As I reflect upon my experiences, I look fondly back at this time in my life. Much like you, I had parents who cared, friends who mattered and teachers who made a difference. I looked forward to the larger world that awaited me with a sense of confidence that now, looking back, amazes me in the naivety of my dreams. Little did I know, or was I prepared for the world that, in reality lay ahead.

In a few short months, your lives, which until now, have been gently controlled and guided will enter a new stage. The freedoms that you have sought, the responsibilities that you feel you are capable of will now not only be within your grasp but very well may be foisted upon you. The tension that many of you have felt over the past few years between yourselves and the significant adults in your life is one that is age old, but necessary. It is the struggle between the voice of experience and one spent working to create opportunities and your freedom from those exact things. There is a story I would like to share with you:

• A young man sought out a wise Sage and asked how it was possible to gain good, sound judgement.

• The Sage replied that in order to have good judgement, it comes from experience in different situations. • The young man then asked how does one get experience? • The Sage replied, just have poor judgement.

This is not something to fear or something to ignore or take lightly. Your journey to this point has been, for the most part relatively void of the peaks and valleys that you will soon experience. These peaks and valleys are neither obstacles to avoid nor insurmountable if you attack them. It is important though, that you chose wisely which things to attack, which to avoid. The key is not to do so by yourself. In the 6th century BC, in the The Art of War, Sun Tzu wrote; "So it is said that if you know your enemies and know yourself, you will fight without danger in battles. If you only know yourself, but not your opponent, you may win or may lose. If you know neither yourself nor your enemy, you will always endanger yourself." This quote serves as reminder that to exist alone, to be unaware or uncaring of those around us carries risk. Our lives, you see, are intertwined with many others, some plainly obvious, but many are abstract. Each and every person here this evening has an interest in what will become of you. In a world of increasing depersonalization, it is essential that you understand your role and the affect you can have. You are not simply a commodity, which can be constructed or deconstructed on a whim. As we celebrate this evening, all of us have had the opportunity to see many of the faces that will cross this stage this evening and to hear many names that we may not be familiar with, but whose lives are as intertwined with ours as ours are with them. From the earliest days of exploration, people looked to the stars for navigation; not only to find where they were, but where they were going. They not only told time, but determined changes of the seasons. Special occasions and ages were also marked by the unchanging stars. In the night sky, there are innumerable stars. Some are young, some are old. Some shine brightly, others not. Yet, all of these stars make up constellations that are depended upon.

Imagine for a moment what the Big Dipper would be without the North Star. I wonder if any of us would be able to identify, by name, the stars that make up this familiar night time sight. A constellation is not made of one star. All of the stars, young and old, bright or fading, make it what it is. These very stars serve many purposes, mostly unknown to one another, many undiscovered, yet all work in concert for a greater purpose.

• Will one of you become a doctor or researcher who will discover or contribute to the cure for cancer? AIDS? • Will one of you become the next inventor of a GOOGLE, YAHOO! or a Microsoft and alter the very fabric of our society? • Will one of you become a teacher who will inspire just one person or a generation? • Will one of you, through your work as an artist, a sculptor, a designer contribute to the aesthetics of our world? • Will one of you build a house, weld a structure, construct a road that contributes to society? • Will one of you change someone's day or life through a simple act or gesture?

As I prepared my speech for this evening, I looked back at words I had spoken to past graduating classes, reflecting on the quotes that I had used, to hopefully, encourage, inspire and cause everyone to consider their role and the part they have to play. In the past, the quotes I have drawn from were from philosophers, poets, authors, presidents, some familiar, many not. Tonight, I draw from someone who is familiar to all of our lives.

In "On Beyond Zebra", Dr. Suess wrote:
Said Conrad Cornelius o'Donald o'Dell,/ My very young friend who is learning to spell:/ "The A is for Ape. / And the B is for Bear./ The C is for Camel. The H is for Hare./ The M is for Mouse. And the R is for Rat./ I know all the twenty-six letters like that... "...through to Z is for Zebra. I know them all well."/ Said Conrad Cornelius o'Donald o'Dell./ "So now I know everything anyone knows/ From beginning to end. From the start to the close./ Because Z is as far as the alphabet goes./ "Then he almost fell flat on his face on the floor/ When I picked up the chalk and drew one letter more!/ A letter he never had dreamed of before!/ And I said, "You can stop, if you want, with the Z/ Because most people stop with the Z/ But not me!"/ "In the places I go there are things that I see That I never could spell if I stopped with the Z./ I'm telling you this 'cause you're one of my friends. My alphabet starts where your alphabet ends!"/ The places I took him!/ I tried hard to tell/ Young Conrad Cornelius o'Donald o'Dell/ A few brand-new wonderful words he might spell./ I led him around and I tried hard to show/ There are things beyond Z that most people don't know./ I took him past Zebra. As far as I could./ And I think, perhaps, maybe I did him some good..Because, finally, he said: "This is really great stuff!/ And I guess the old alphabet ISN'T enough!" NOW the letters he uses are something to see! Most people still stop at the Z.../ But not HE!

As with Young Conrad Cornelius o'Donald o'Dell, do not allow barriers to limit your journey. Dream and inspire yourself and those around you. Live your life to the fullest, learn from your past experiences and strive to excel.

Good luck and best wishes to each of you.

Valedictorian - Alexandra Seal

Good evening fellow graduands, teachers, parents and honoured guests. We are here tonight to recognize the accomplishments of the Harry Ainlay Graduating Class of 2008. For the past twelve years, we have been going to school five days a week from September to June. It is fair to say that school has been one of the biggest parts of our lives thus far. After dedicating so much time to our educations, one might wonder why we go to school in the first place. The first reason that comes to mind is that we go to learn. We have learned thousands of things. Our success on assignments and exams has proven that. Even our failures were learning opportunities. However, with the passing of time, it is inevitable that we will forget most of what we have learned. Often, we forget material as soon as we have been tested on it. None of us will remember everything we have learned since grade one. Fortunately, this was not the purpose of our education. High school diplomas do not say that we are experts on everything we have been taught. What they really say is that we know how to learn. We have developed our problem solving, critical thinking, creative, artistic and athletic abilities over the past twelve years. In the future, these skills will be more important to us than the knowledge we gained at school. We will probably never need to know how much precipitation there is in the tundra each year or which prime number comes after 683. However, if we ever needed to find this information it would be possible because of the skills we have acquired.

These skills will also help us to make decisions as we become more independent. We have the freedom to decide for ourselves what we want to do after high school. The people in our lives may influence our choices, but they will not make the decisions for us. These choices are difficult to make. We cannot predict the future, so it is hard to know with certainty what the outcome of every decision will be. Nevertheless, this should not stop us from trying to reach our goals. Sometimes we have to take risks in order to get what we want.

In his song "The River", Garth Brooks said: "Too many times we stand aside and let the waters slip away 'til what we put off 'til tomorrow has now become today. So don't you sit upon the shoreline and say you're satisfied. Choose to chance the rapids and dare to dance the tide."

If you "sit upon the shoreline" because you are afraid to take a chance, you can save yourself from the disappointment of trying and failing. However, you will never know where the river could have taken you. Eventually, you may regret missing opportunities. Several years from now, you are more likely to regret the opportunities that passed you by than the risks you took. If you ask people what they regret about their lives, you will probably hear things like "I wish I had learned how to ski when I was younger" or "I should have traveled more". You will probably not hear anyone say "I will never get over getting turned down for a job that I applied for" or "not making it onto the basketball team I tried out for will haunt me forever". I am not saying that every chance is worth taking, but most goals cannot be reached without taking a few chances and making some mistakes.

In closing, I would like to wish everyone the best of luck in the future. Congratulations, Class of 2008! Thank you and goodnight.

"A Historical Inquest"

Historians Justin Delhon & David Kowalyk

May 23, 2008

(Cue Eye of the Tiger and show David and Justin running to Commencement and Awards)

J: Hello ladies and gentlemen my name is Justin Delhon

D: And I am David Kowalyk and we are your 2008 Grad Historians

J: You know David when I look back at how much we have changed over the last 3 years it is mind boggling how different we have become from our former selves. I mean I haven't changed that much but you have.

D: What are you talking about, look at this picture of you when you started grade 10 (Carson Fong)

J: Wow wait until you guys see David's grade 10 picture. (Show picture of Scott Czurlok)

D: Well they wanted to pick the best of the best, the cream of the crop, the most educated and well-rounded historians for this honourary position of Grad Historian. But you get us instead.

J: So here we are trying to tell about 3 years in 10 minutes. 3 years of sports, 3 years of learning, three years of just solid good times and also three years of homework... (look at each other) ahahahahah

J: I remember grade 10 because I thought it was going to be a great year. They gave all of us IB kids cookies and milk and I thought this was going to be a great school. It wasn't all bad, I realized how hard you have to work in high school compared to junior high.

D: I know what you mean; I mean I spent so many more hours on my hair these last three years than ever before.

J: He's not joking!

D: But seriously I realized that high school is all about finding your sense of identity. There were so many moments and times that I can remember that defined me as a person.

J: Like that time David rapped in Social class about the Greek gods

D: You don't mean the French Revolution remix, the year was 1775, and the people of France were barely alive. They were poor tired and not well fed; they couldn't afford fish, meat, cheese or bread. Now things were bad, or so it would seem, but this was life in the old regime. The reason they had such a terrible thing, was because they had such a terrible King.

J: Grade 10 was a scary time for many Titans. I remember walking in seeing people with full beards, like Jim Roblee. He was 15 and he had more facial hair than Scott Czurlok grows on his head. And the teachers were so much more intimidating, like Mr. Gardner trying to use fear to convert all of us into NDPer. Mr. Lavold always telling me this is the Oilers year, and Mr. Matichuk telling us nine and a half is better than ten.

D: And French was a nightmare. My teacher always wrote the same comment on my exams: J'entends allemand est amusant which translates to "I hear German is fun"

J: Moving onto grade 11, this was the year 2006, which was the year the Edmonton Oilers went all the way to game seven of the Stanley cup playoffs.

D: Then what happened to the team?

J: He moved to Anaheim!

D: Moving on! Disney finally takes over Pixar, which just goes to show nothing is taking that mouse out!

J: And speaking of technology Apple came out with its most advanced Ipod, the Ipod Nano 2.0, almost 4 cm's smaller than the original, for only 79.99 more. Makes it a lot easier to hide from the teachers.

D: Now if I had just pitched for that, Mr. Dalton wouldn't have my Ipod. But on a serious note, one of the most horrific things was developed right here in our own city. This had the ability to tear apart families, destroy relationships and create groundings so sever that one would never forget its wrath.

J: He is of course referring to

J and D: SCHOOLZONE (WITH SCARY NOISES IN BACKGROUND)

J: Nobody liked school zone ok. The teachers hated it because they had the parents and kids asking for updates everyday non-stop. The students didn't like it because the parents got to see their marks, and the parents didn't like it because they had to see the marks.

D: What an awful awful program. But seriously, the theme for grade 11 was establishing communications between our peers. Unlike grade 10 where everything seems overwhelming, grade 11 is more relaxed and comfortable. Heck that's even the year I met this individual here. (Hear crying) look at him get all choked up.

J: I'm sorry but that was the worst day of my life (sniff). I remember grade 11 because that was the year Titans won gold in basketball, volleyball and badminton and all the athletics were excelling. We had a great musical production, the Christmas Carol, and all the events around the school were run smoothly. Wow what an amazing year, and I had absolutely nothing to do with any of it, what about you.

D: Don't you remember that's the year we did our stand-up routines? I mean weren't we funny?

(Long awkward pause)

J: Moving on to grade 12. The year that truly matters, in terms of knowledge especially... you know what I remember Math 30 Pure, wow, that was hard.

D: Well yeah it was hard but symbolic at the same time, like with the first unit transformations, it's kind of like us transforming from high school kids into educated adults, or exponents and logs. It's like us exponentially ascending into a world of higher learning.

J: Yea we also did a unit of perms and combs. My friend David here used to have a perm but for tonight he made it a comb.

D: Hey man this is natural. Touch of class was fun. Our theory is that Touch of Class is there because teachers want to feel like for one day they are actually working with intellectuals, instead of well, us!

J: The dodge ball tournament was a huge success. The student team beat the teachers team easily in the final.

D: Which just goes to show that they may transfer knowledge to our brains but we transfer dodge balls to their face.

J: The library was always an adventure. I remember this one time, when no one was looking, my rebel friends and I would get together, and have five to table.

D: Way to stick to the man there Justin.

J: Rock band is the new sensation. I remember kids used to come to class late after lunch because they were playing Rock Band. Twenty years ago this would have gotten a kid suspended for being late, now teachers ask him "did you get any new songs?"

D: Food prices sky rocketed this year, pretty soon people are going to be spending more on chow mein than on gas.

D: You know it seems hard to think of all three years at this school without breaking out into song. Hit it boys!

J: Well this song was dedicated to my friends in band, A-flat! (To the tune of Michael Jackson's Billy Jean)

Titans, there's no need to feel dumb
I said Titans; you won't end up a bum
I said Titans, you have had to endure
There's no need to fear the future

Titans, there are places to go
I said Titans; you won't be short on dough
You can't stay here. Cause your ready to grow
From all of life's highs and its lows.

It's fun to study at Harry Ainlay
It's fun to study at Harry Ainlay
They have everything for a student's success
We can beat out all the rest

It's fun to study at Harry Ainlay
It's fun to study at Harry Ainlay
You can be in a play, or drum for the band
Whatever you may demand

J: Now we're going to slow it down for a verse here for a classic you may all remember.

I've paid my dues
Grade after grade
I've done my homework
And never got paid
And bad exams
I wrote a few
I've had my share of ups and downs
But I've come through

We are the graduates of '08
And we'll keep on working
To be great
We are the graduates
We are the graduates
No room for dropouts cause we are the graduates of '08!!

Let's sing a song, for the Class of 08
When you have Mr. Fung, make sure your not late
We ain't going to forget all the times we had,
Titans move on when we're finished with grad,
cause

It's our grad, we're done with high school
But not really, we still have finals
We just want these guys to stop singing
Cause it's our grad

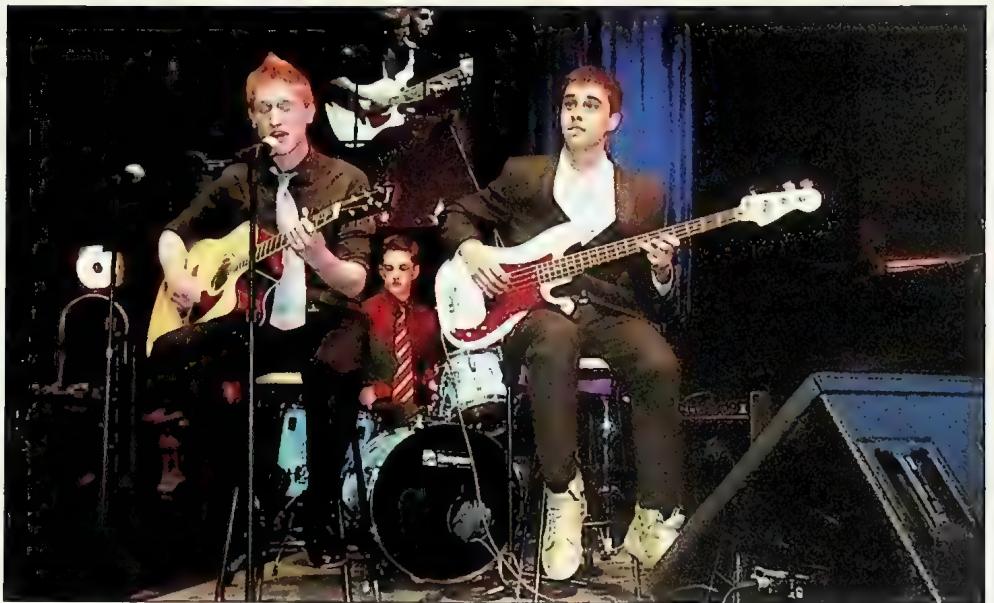

Our minds are like an open highway
Remember this, cause this is your day
The teachers did the best they could with us, now
It's our grad

D: Thank you everyone and good luck in your future endeavours.

Both: Good night Ainlay!

Awards

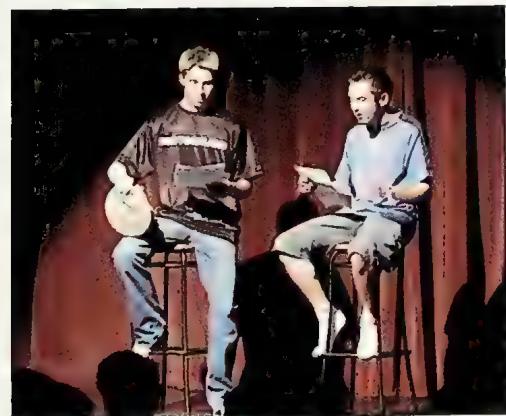

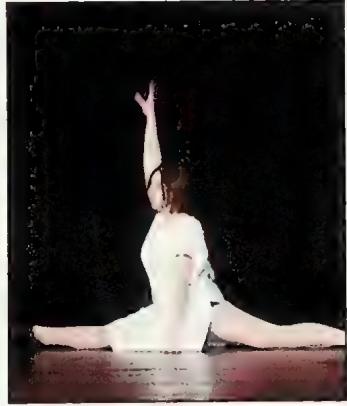

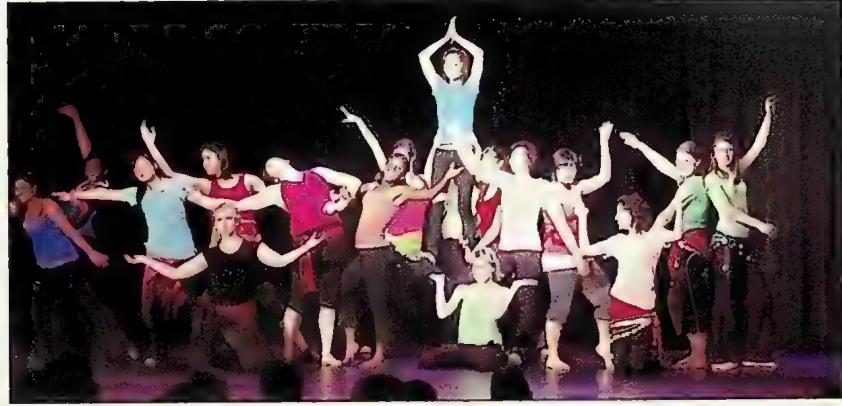

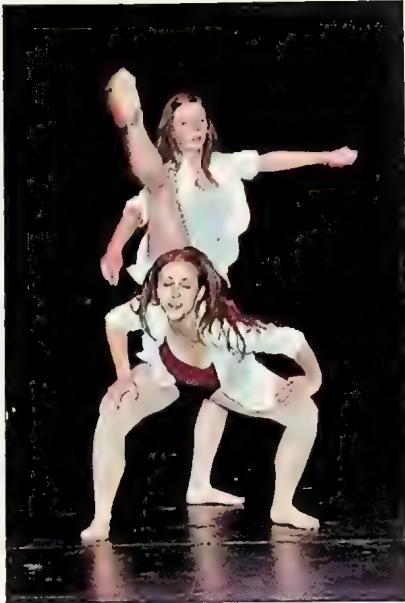

This year, the Grade 12 awards were presented at Commencement on May 23rd at the Jubilee Auditorium. The Grade 10 and 11 awards were given out at the Ainlay awards ceremony on June 5th. Thanks to the graduation committee and awards board for making these nights possible. Congratulations to all award winners!

Dramapalooza

On June 4th, Dramapalooza exploded on the Ainlay stage with dancers, comedians, actors and mimes. The audience feasted on a visual and auditory delight of skits, plays and songs. The evening was a delight for the audience, participants and the tech crew who are "always ready for the next cue." Wow!

Retiring Staff

Ms. J. Forst

Mrs. Forst earned her BEd. in 1970 and has passionately taught for 37 years. She began her career teaching in Barhead and five years later began teaching with Edmonton Public Schools where she taught mathematics for the next 32 years. Mrs. Forst was actively involved in numerous school activities throughout her career such as Yearbook Advisor, Grad Organizer, School Paper Coordinator, Handy-crafts Club, Courtesy Committees, Math Contest Coordinator, Awards Board and the Wrestling Team Teacher Advisor, to name a few. Mrs. Forst's final 12 years were spent at Harry Ainlay High School, a school that she truly loved to call home and where she thoroughly enjoyed working with her colleagues.

Ms. J. Menzak

Mrs. Menzak began her teaching career in Onoway, Alberta in 1972. After two years she was hired by the Edmonton Public School Board to teach Home Economics. Prior to becoming a part of the Harry Ainlay teaching staff, she taught at LY Cairns, M.E. Lazerte and J. Percy Page High School. Mrs. Menzak will be missed by her students for her out-going personality and awesome sense of humour. Mrs. Menzak has a passion for gardening, golf and motorbike trips. For her retirement, she and her husband have moved to Vancouver Island to pursue these hobbies.

Ms. Newbold

I started teaching at Queen Elizabeth High School and moved to Ainlay in 1982. Teaching social studies was a "calling." The debate, discussion, UN projects, personal statements and research provided endless inspiration and satisfaction. I coordinated the Ainlay Encounters with Canada program for 10 years and sponsored the Amnesty International social justice club. We planned several fundraisers, Benefit Concerts and special events like "Kites for Afghanistan," "The Right To Play," "Spread the Net," letter writing session, etc. I now plan to travel the world, read great books, and spend time with family and friends.

Mr. D. Giltner

I have spent 30 years teaching English at various high schools throughout Edmonton and am especially pleased to have finished my career at Harry Ainlay. During the 13 years I spent at Ainlay, I worked with many incredible colleagues who taught me a great deal about the fine art of teaching English. Most importantly, I had the pleasure of teaching hundreds of amazing students who helped make teaching at Ainlay a rewarding and pleasurable experience.

Ms. C. Peters

I have spent the last 29 years working for Edmonton Public Schools as a Phys. Ed., Social Studies and CTS teacher then as an assistant principal at Jasper Place and Harry Ainlay. The last eight years have been spent at Harry Ainlay and that is also where I graduated from high school so it is really great to come full circle and end my career at such a great school. It has been a rewarding and fulfilling career.

Ms. E. Weisenberg

I have volunteered and worked with Edmonton Public for close to 25 years. The first five years I volunteered at Sweet Grass Elementary, the next 20 years were spent at McKernan, Strathcona and Harry Ainlay as an employee. My fourteen years at Ainlay have been extremely challenging and rewarding. I enjoyed working with the students and mastering the various programs that we as support staff specialized in.

Ms. M. Pepper

I have worked for Edmonton Public Schools for 26 years. The first six years I worked at Meyokumin Elementary school and then worked for the next 20 years at Harry Ainlay. I was the Administrative assistant to seven principals during this time. I now plan to travel, spend more time with my grandchildren and improve my golf game. Thanks to the wonderful Ainlay staff and students for the very memorable years.

Final Thoughts - Mr. K. Wright, Yearbook Adviser

Ainlay is a truly amazing school that vibrates with energy and activity on a daily basis. The yearbook staff has been on active duty each day to record the numerous events, activities and antics of our energetic teenage population. The yearbook staff have put their heart and soul into capturing the Titan spirit within these pages. It has been an honour to work with this year's yearbook staff. Andrea Hill, our senior editor, has been the ultimate multi-tasker this year dividing her time between Student Council, Yearbook, writing for the Edmonton Journal, fundraising and completing a full IB program. As a result of Andrea's numerous activities she was nominated for the teen category of this year's YWCA's Women of Distinction Awards Program. Andrea's speed, accuracy and writing skills have been a great benefit to the yearbook.

This year's editors, Beth Adamowicz, Bridget Kinloch, Jinnee Lu, Kiersten Marchand have been a dedicated group, making room 140 their second home. I cannot thank them enough for the energy and spirit they have brought to the creation of this book. It has been a sincere pleasure working with this team. In addition to the editors, a small army of 40 or so students volunteered thousands of hours to take photographs, design pages, distribute the yearbooks and meet the many page deadlines. The yearbook staff as a whole has created a lasting memory of the lives of the Titans of 2007 - 2008. Enjoy your yearbook! A special thank you goes to the 2006/2007 yearbook editors emeritae, Amy Schwartz and Karen Rodning, for coming back to help with this year's book during the warmest days of July. Once again, the July sun is shining, the wind is blowing and I am going sailing. Bon Voyage!

Editors' Notes

Andrea Hill- Senior Editor
As a full IB student involved in way more committees than was wise, it meant so much to me to know I could depend on my trusty yearbook crew to help me cover school events and meet the ever-present deadlines. Here's a huge thank you to all of those who put in countless hours during lunch hours, after school and even on weekends (yes the comm tech room is still open then!) and an extra huge thank you to Mr. Wright for helping us all out for the past ten months!

Editors-

Beth Adamowicz, Bridget Kinloch, Jinnee Lu, Kiersten Marchand

Yearbook is one of the many experiences that we have dedicated our time to. Though it required a huge level of commitment working on this project during lunch time and after school, it was indeed a worthwhile endeavour. We have experienced yearbook as an enjoyable activity, a way of meeting new people, and a way to learn book design skills and organizational skills. We would like to thank Mr. Wright for the wonderful opportunity and Andrea for her continuous support in yearbook with her busy schedule this year.
